Hoover Probes Are Widened

Gen. Clark Task Force To Make Top-To-Bottom Investigations Beyond CIA Organization

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Hoover Commission disclosed Thursday that a task force headed by Gen. Mark W. Clark will make a "top to bottom" investigation of the intelligence activities of the State Department, the armed services and other government agencies.

The Clark group is already engaged in a study of the top-secret Central Intelligence Agency, but this was the first disclosure that other government departments also will come under its scrutiny.

John B. Hollister, executive director of the commission on organization of the executive branch of the government, which is headed by former President Herbert Hoover, said the Clark task force will also probe the activities "of other governmental agencies that collect intelligence."

Hollister did not identify them.

Hollister added: "General Clark's task force is not limited to a study of the Central Intelligence Agency. It will extend its study to cover the full operations of governmental intelligence agencies.

Involve Policy

"This means that it will investigate the intelligence services of the State Department, of the armed services, and of any other department or agency dealing with intelligence.

"Moreover, this commission's studies involve policy as well as organization and operations. There are no restrictions on the scope of its investigations. Any investigation to have any value must be a top to bottom investigation. General Clark's study will be that kind of study."

Hollister said the Clark task force investigation of the CIA bore no connection with that recently made of the organization of Lieut. Gen. James H. Doolittle and his study group. This study was undertaken at the request of President Eisenhower.

'Creditable Job'

The Doolittle group informed the President that the CIA, which has top responsibility for espionage and counter-espionage operations, should improve some phases of its activities.

It added, however, following a two-month survey, that the agency is doing a "creditable job" considering its relatively short life and rapid expansion.

Hollister emphasized that the Hoover Commission group will report directly to Congress, which provided by law for a study of government agencies designed to improve their activities and reduce expenditures.

Hollister said the Clark task force will not report its findings and recommendations to the President.

Capt. Smith Testifies In Pen Murder Trial

By VIRGIL FALLOON

More details in "oral confessions" made by Charles E. McClelland to the killing of Prison Guard John Claussen developed Thursday in the testimony of Capt. Harold Smith of the Nebraska Safety Patrol.

Capt. Smith told a Lancaster District Court jury that McClelland stated on June 23 that Inmate Joseph E. DeYonghe "was with him" on April 16 when he killed Claussen.

McClelland said he didn't name the inmate before "because of homosexual relations with DeYonghe and he was trying to protect him," Smith stated.

(DeYonghe has also been charged with the murder of Claussen, but has been committed to the State Hospital as mentally ill.)

'Washed Hands'

In a June 11 interrogation of McClelland, Smith said, McClelland also told of coming to his cell after the Claussen murder and washing his hands. "The defendant said he had Inmate (Hugh) Griffin pour some hot water for him to wash his hands," Smith said.

Other testimony of Capt. Smith largely corroborated earlier testimony of Deputy Warden John Greenholz as to the oral confession made by McClelland on May 26.

Other 'Confessions'

Capt. Smith testified to the statements given then by McClelland in orally confessing how he hit Claussen with a chair leg, dragged the body across the print shop, took $18—a $10, a $5 and three $1 bills—from Claussen's billfold, and then slashed Claussen's throat with a knife.

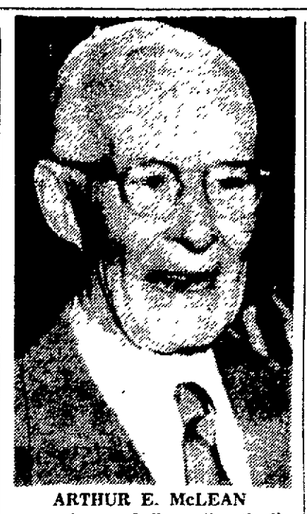

On cross-examination Capt. Smith said he knew that McClelland has made confessions to other murders.

Smith said McClelland told him (in about 1950) that he killed an old lady in Missouri, but a subse-

Banker Blasts Utility

McLean, An Admirer Of Eisenhower, Warns Of National Scandal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arkansas banker Arthur E. McLean Thursday termed the Arkansas Power & Light Co. a "most corrupt and ruthless" arm of the controversial Dixon-Yates Public Utility group.

McLean, long-time critic of Arkansas Power, was testifying under oath before the Senate Anti-Monopoly subcommittee which is exploring in public hearings the hotly disputed private power contract President Eisenhower has ordered negotiated with the Dixon-Yates companies.

One of these is middle south Utilities, Inc., headed by Edgar H. Dixon, and the parent company of Arkansas Power. The other group is the Southern Co., headed by E. A. Yates.

Under the proposed contract the Dixon-Yates group would build a generating plant at West Memphis, Ark., to feed private power into the public power lines of the Tennessee Valley Authority. The plan is a major issue in some areas in the current congressional election campaign.

Could Cause Scandal

McLean, 62, resident of the Commercial National Bank of Little Rock, Ark., told the subcommittee he knew nothing about the Dixon-Yates contract but that the government would be wise to use extreme caution in entering into any contract with a parent of Arkansas Power.

He said "a national scandal" could be the price of carelessnes.

McLean charged that Arkansas Power as practiced "bribery" and played politics "as a general routine for years and years."

He said the government should get "the best brains possible and see that the brains are honest" to examine the proposed contract.

Not Yet Signed

The contract already has been approved as to form by the Atomic Energy Commission but has not been signed. AEC is the contracting agent since the private power would replace TVA electricity channeled to AEC installations at Paducah, Ky.

McLean described himself as an admirer of President Eisenhower. He said one reason for giving his testimony is a desire to keep "his (Eisenhower's) administration from becoming involved in any national scandal.

"If the contract is a fast negotiated deal," he said, "they may see the administration sold down the river by greed in the hope of accumulating a few million dollars."

McLean said he was speaking from a wide background of controversy with Arkansas power. The fight began in 1935 with a dispute over electricity charges for a building owned by his bank.

McLean attacked a pending application to the state's Public Service Commission for a $3,900,000 a year increase in Arkansas Power's rates.

He said the increase "would be an outrage" and that the rates are so high now that the company risks "killing the goose that lays the golden eggs."

McLean said he now serves as a consultant to the state Public Service Commission on the proposed public rate increase. He said he wants it known that "there will be no bribery" to influence the commission. He said one reason is that he is "on the job," and another that commission members would not stand for it.

Two Iowans Die In Crash Near Axtell

AXTELL, Neb. (AP) — Two Iowa residents were fatally injured shortly before noon Thursday in a two-car collision at the junction of Highways 44 and 6 two miles south of here.

The State Safety Patrol said Hans Andresen, 74, Schalber, Iowa, and Mrs. Darryl Lee, age unknown, Lohrville, Iowa, died shortly after the car in which they were riding was in collision with an eastbound car on Highway 6 driven by Wayne Weiter, 43, Great Bend, Kan. Weiter, who was riding alone, was reported in serious condition in a Holdrege hospital.

Mrs. Lee's husband, Bennett, 59, was in critical condition with fractured ribs, a fractured leg, and a crushed chest, Holdrege hospital officials said. He was the driver of the west-bound car on Highway 6.

Other passengers in the Lee car, who have been hospitalized, include Mrs. Floyd Pittman, Lohrville, and Mrs. Hanoha Andresen, Schalber. Mrs. Pittman was in good condition and Mrs. Andresen in fair condition in the Holdrege hospital.

The two deaths raise the Nebraska traffic death toll for the year to 255 as compared with 270 last year at this time.

Good Neighbors Help Greenwood Farmer

One of the big worries of W. H. Van Landengham, Greenwood farmer who recently became seriously ill, was his unpicked crop of corn. But Van Landengham reckoned without his neighbors who gathered at his place Thursday to pick off and crib a 90-acre field of corn. Using about 14 mechanical pickers and other equipment, about a score of farmers picked the 90 acres in a little more than four hours. The farmers' wives set up a table in the yard to keep the volunteers supplied with coffee. Included among the farmers who pitched in on the job are these pictured above. They are: William Van Landengham, Willis Lambert. Ralph Daft. Elmer Mathis, Bill Dusenberry. Bob Leesley, Charley Bell, Warner Boucher, Art Pershing, John Downing, Ernest Otto, Art Hansen, Fred Diekmann, Bill Piening, John Grady, Milford Hansen, Bill Schuelke, Ellis Bockelman and Clarence Schuelke. Second Try In Sight

New Congress To Be Offered His Program

NEW YORK (AP) — President Eisenhower sounded a new call Thursday night for enactment of his voluntary health insurance program — pigeonholed by the 83rd Republican Congress — and termed it "the logical alternative to socialized medicine."

The President told the annual Alfred E. Smith memorial dinner that he will resubmit the administration's once-shelved health plan to the new Congress convening in January.

Speaking at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel to 2,000 diners who paid $100 a plate with the proceeds going "to the cause of the sick," the chief executive in discussing his plan for expansion of coverage by the nation's voluntary health insurance plans, declared:

Won't Be Denied

"We know that the American people will not long be denied access to adequate medical facilities. The program for volunteer health insurance is one further step in achieving this objective in the American way. It is the logical alternative to socialized medicine."

Eisenhower was introduced by Francis Cardinal Spellman and received a standing ovation. Among those at the speakers table with him were Republican Sen. Irving M. Ives, who is running for governor of New York in the Nov. 2 election, and his Democratic opponent, Averell Harriman.

He singled out the late Al Smith, who was governor of New York and the 1928 Democratic presidential nominee, as a man who would have applauded newly enacted laws aimed at ousting subversives "from influential positions."

Tribute To Smith

And GOP Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, who declined to seek a fourth term, said of Smith:

"Nobody would have been such a magnificent champion of the struggle against communism as he."

The President's speech — tabbed "nonpolitical" by the White House—came after a busy day in New York which included a three and a half hour tour of housing, highway and hospital projects. He also put the spurs to New York Republican workers in the party's home stretch drive for continued control of Congress in the Nov. 2 elections.

Endorsement Stands

Late in the day, the chief executive met with former Rep. Clifford P. Case of New Jersey — target of factional opposition within his own Republican party — and the White House reported after the conference that Eisenhower "has not changed one iota" in his endorsement of Case, in his bid for a U.S. Senate seat on the Republican ticket.

Among others, Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis) is lined up against Case.

Eisenhower's address Thursday night—carried nationwide on television and radio—was mainly a warm tribute to Al Smith, late governor of New York and 1928 Democratic presidential nominee.

The President said Smith "was incapable of entertaining or tolerating a thought directed toward the violent destruction of the governmental system of our free country."

WOULD YOU HAVE WALKED?

CANON CITY, Colo. (INS)—Milton Andrus, executive secretary of the Colorado Good Roads Assn. related Thursday how he punctured a tire near the State Mental Hospital at Pueblo, Colo. He said that while changing the tire he inadvertently kicked all the wheel lugs down a drain.

To a curious onlooker he exclaimed: "Well, that's that, now I walk to town."

The onlooker replied: "Why don't you take a lug from each of the other wheels, put them on this wheel and drive slowly—you could make it."

Andrus saw new hope.

"Are you a patient here?" Andrus asked.

11 FHA Workers Suspended

Announcement Claims 'Improper Activities'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Housing Administration, which has been stripped of more than a dozen top officials in a months-long shakeup. Thursday announced the suspension of 11 lower level employes from its headquarters staff.

The announcement said charges of "improper activities" against them were being investigated, but neither their names nor the kind of activities were divulged. The Washington Evening Star said it was reported most of the charges involved gambling.

At the same time, but in a separate announcement, the housing agency said G. A. Baumann, director of personnel, had resigned because of ill health.

Baumann, 49 and a native of Grand Island, Neb., told a reporter he had quit his $11,800 a year job because he was suffering ulcers and had been forbidden by his doctor to continue working.

Baumann said FHA Commission Norman Mason, in accepting his resignation, had written him a "nice letter" saying:

"To the best of my knowledge you are leaving government service with a record of accomplishment in the personnel field . . ."

Baumann joined the agency in 1938 and became its personnel director in 1950.

30 Hurt In School Bus Crash

. . . Three Are 'Critical'

EDGEFIELD, S. C. (INS) — A crowded school bus crashed with a truck driven by a mother hurrying her daughter to catch the bus Thursday, injuring 30 persons.

Two children were given only a slim chance to live.

They were James Turnag, 8, one of the children on the bus, and Theresa White, who was riding in her mother's pickup truck.

Mrs. Alice White, 38, also was listed as "critically" injured in the crash.

All others were less seriously injured, although a total of 14 remained under doctor's treatment either at Edgefield or at Augusta, Ga.

The school bus struck the Whites' truck, and careened over a 25-foot embankment.

Sheriff C. R. Jackson Jr., said that for some reason Theresa White missed the bus Thursday morning. Her mother drove after the bus, pulled in front of it and stopped.

The bus, carrying about 35 to 40 children at the time, smashed into the back of the truck, hurling it into an embankment. The bus, driven by 17-year-old Edgefield high school student Billy Johnson, traveled another 150 feet, left the highway and plunged over a 25-foot bank. The vehicle turned over on its side in Gundy Creek.

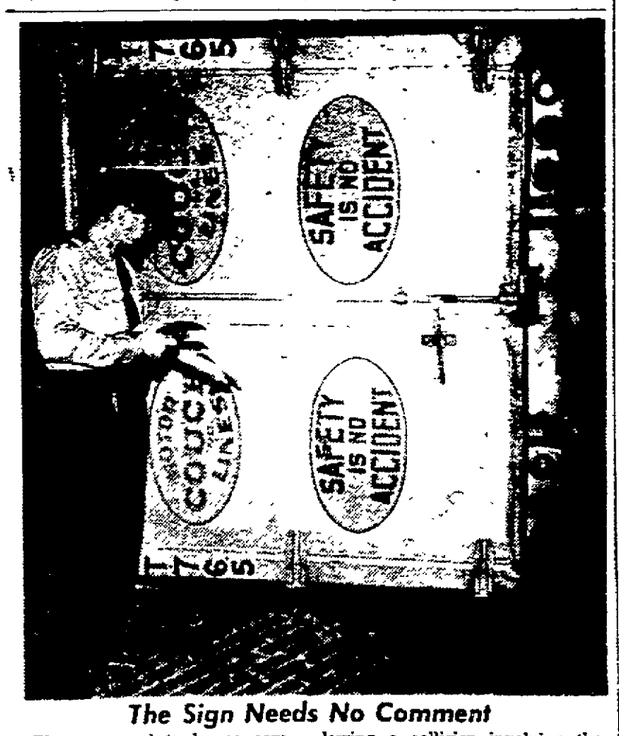

Twenty of the injured were taken to Augusta's University Hospital where all but four were released after treatment. Ten others were treated at Edgefield for injuries.

Registration Ends Today

This is the final day for registering for the Nov. 2 general election.

The office of election commissioner in the Trust Bldg. at 10th and O closes at 5 p.m. Friday. No more registrations will be received after that time.

Total registration is expected by election officials to hit about 53,000 with some 5,000 of those incorrect or challenged for wrong addresses or other reasons.

The Sign Needs No Comment

There seemed to be no comment on this sign, "Safety is no accident," on the back of a truck which had overturned onto and crushed a Colorado man following a collision involving the Coloradoan's station wagon at 33rd and Holdrege. Kearney College Refuses To Debate On Question Red China Recognition

By BARBARA HEMPHILL
Star Staff Writer

President Herbert L. Cushing of Nebraska State Teachers College at Kearney has notified the Speech Association of America the college will not take part in intercollegiate debate this year if the question is to be:

"Resolved: That the United States should extend diplomatic recognition to the Communist government of China."

Presidents of the four state teachers colleges agreed at a meeting last week that none would take part in debate on that subject, E. Albin Larson, secretary of the normal board, said.

Cushing explained his decision in a letter to Dr. Karl R. Wallace of the University of Illinois, president of the Speech Asosciation of America.

"I grant," Cushing said in the letter, "that I may be wrong to take the position that it is not fair to ask a debate group to spend 50 per cent of their time arguing in behalf of a government which is so diametrically opposed to the policy of containment which our government has adopted.

"Actually, it would seem just as reasonable to debat repeal of the 15th Amendment to the Constitution of the United States as to debate the recognition of Red China," he said.

"Much of our difficulty today, as I see it, in the matter of foreign policy," he said, "stems from the step which was taken in the recognition of Red Russia, and the problems which have resulted from the intervention of Red China in the provoking of the North Korean aggression."

Cushing said "I personally feel that back of it all (selection of the debate topic) is a bit of a desire on the part of somebody to indoctrinate a few thousand American college youth with what I consider to be a dangerous philosophy."

University of Nebraska and Wesleyan University debate coaches say they do not object to using the debate question, although it was not the topic they favored for selection this year.

Coaches of both universities voted for the farm price support program as their choice for the topic for intercollegiate debate.

Nearly all colleges and universities in the United States take part in the selection of the topic and the subject chosen for this year received a large majority of the votes.

Early in the spring each debate coach in the national speech association submits suggested topics to the main offices of several speech honorary organizations.

Then selection of the subject to be used is made by vote of all coaches from among the five questions the honorary groups find were suggested most often.

Both Don Olson of the University of Nebraska and A. J. Mueller of Wesleyan pointed out the subject chosen each year is likely to be a highly controversial one.

Debate students usually spend a good deal of their time on the topic chosen as the intercollegiate debate question for the year.

They argue the topic in intramural debates as preparation for taking part in inter-college tournaments.

Students must study both sides of any debate question, since often they are not informed until shortly before a debate which side they will argue.

Members of the state Intercollegiate Forensics Association are being polled to see whether a different topic will be selected for debate at the association's tournament to be held at Wayne in March.

At a meeting of the association the Rev. E. A. Conway of Creighton University moved that the members be polled on the question, Harold Ahrendts, Kearney debate coach, said.

Ahrendts said he has not yet received definite answers from the member colleges which include Wayne, Kearney, Creighton, Peru, Hastings, Doane, Omaha University, McCook Junior College, Midland and Wesleyan.

Ahrendts said that he, as Kearney College debate coach, supports Cushing's stand.

Ahrendts said he believes not many of the member schools would take part in the debate division of the speech tournament unless the topic is changed.

The Sign Needs No Comment

There seemed to be no comment on this sign, "Safety is no accident," on the back of a truck which had overturned onto and crushed a Colorado man following a collision involving the Coloradoan's station wagon at 33rd and Holdrege. The officer is Arthur Aksamit. (Story on the accident, Lincoln's second fatal crash in eight hours, on Page 7.) (Star Photo.)

Good Neighbors Help Greenwood Farmer

One of the big worries of W. H. Van Landengham, Greenwood farmer who recently became seriously ill, was his unpicked crop of corn. But Van Landengham reckoned without his neighbors who gathered at his place Thursday to pick off and crib a 90-acre field of corn. Using about 14 mechanical pickers and other equipment, about a score of farmers picked the 90 acres in a little more than four hours. The farmers' wives set up a table in the yard to keep the volunteers supplied with coffee. Included among the farmers who pitched in on the job are these pictured above. They are: William Van Landengham, Willis Lambert, Ralph Daft, Elmer Mathis, Bill Dusenberry, Bob Leesley, Charley Bell, Warner Boucher, Art Pershing, John Downing, Ernest Otto, Art Hansen, Fred Diekmann, Bill Piening, John Grady, Milford Hansen, Bill Schuelke, Ellis Bockelman and Clarence Schuelke. WOULD YOU HAVE WALKED?

CANON CITY, Colo. (INS)—Milton Andrus, executive secretary of the Colorado Good Roads Assn. related Thursday how he punctured a tire near the State Mental Hospital at Pueblo, Colo. He said that while changing the tire he inadvertently kicked all the wheel lugs down a drain.

To a curious onlooker he exclaimed: "Well, that's that, now I walk to town."

The onlooker replied: "Why don't you take a lug from each of the other wheels, put them on this wheel and drive slowly—you could make it."

Andrus saw new hope.

"Are you a patient here?" Andrus asked.

Announcement Claims 'Improper Activities'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Housing Administration, which has been stripped of more than a dozen top officials in a months-long shakeup, Thursday announced the suspension of 11 lower level employes from its headquarters staff.

The announcement said charges of "improper activities" against them were being investigated, but neither their names nor the kind of activities were divulged. The Washington Evening Star said it was reported most of the charges involved gambling.

At the same time, but in a separate announcement, the housing agency said G. A. Baumann, director of personnel, had resigned because of ill health.

Baumann, 49 and a native of Grand Island, Neb., told a reporter he had quit his $11,800 a year job because he was suffering ulcers and had been forbidden by his doctor to continue working.

Baumann said FHA Commission Norman Mason, in accepting his resignation, had written him a "nice letter" saying:

"To the best of my knowledge you are leaving government service with a record of accomplishment in the personnel field . . ."

Baumann joined the agency in 1938 and became its personnel director in 1950.

30 Hurt In School Bus Crash

. . . Three Are 'Critical'

EDGEFIELD, S. C. (INS) — A crowded school bus crashed with a truck driven by a mother hurrying her daughter to catch the bus Thursday, injuring 30 persons.

Two children were given only a slim chance to live.

They were James Turnag, 8, one of the children on the bus, and Theresa White, who was riding in her mother's pickup truck.

Mrs. Alice White, 38, also was listed as "critically" injured in the crash.

All others were less seriously injured, although a total of 14 remained under doctor's treatment either at Edgefield or at Augusta, Ga.

The school bus struck the Whites' truck, and careened over a 25-foot embankment.

Sheriff C. R. Jackson Jr., said that for some reason Theresa White missed the bus Thursday morning. Her mother drove after the bus, pulled in front of it and stopped.

The bus, carrying about 35 to 40 children at the time, smashed into the back of the truck, hurling it into an embankment. The bus, driven by 17-year-old Edgefield high school student Billy Johnson, traveled another 150 feet, left the highway and plunged over a 25-foot bank. The vehicle turned over on its side in Gundy Creek.

Twenty of the injured were taken to Augusta's University Hospital where all but four were released after treatment. Ten others were treated at Edgefield for injuries.

Registration Ends Today

This is the final day for registering for the Nov. 2 general election.

The office of election commissioner in the Trust Bldg. at 10th and O closes at 5 p.m. Friday. No more registrations will be received after that time.

Total registration is expected by election officials to hit about 53,000 with some 5,000 of those incorrect or challenged for wrong addresses or other reasons.

Second Try In Sight

New Congress To Be Offered His Program

NEW YORK (AP) — President Eisenhower sounded a new call Thursday night for enactment of his voluntary health insurance program — pigeonholed by the 83rd Republican Congress — and termed it "the logical alternative to socialized medicine."

The President told the annual Alfred E. Smith memorial dinner that he will resubmit the administration's once-shelved health plan to the new Congress convening in January.

Speaking at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel to 2,000 diners who paid $100 a plate with the proceeds going "to the cause of the sick," the chief executive in discussing his plan for expansion of coverage by the nation's voluntary health insurance plans, declared:

Won't Be Denied

"We know that the American people will not long be denied access to adequate medical facilities. The program for volunteer health insurance is one further step in achieving this objective in the American way. It is the logical alternative to socialized medicine."

Eisenhower was introduced by Francis Cardinal Spellman and received a standing ovation. Among those at the speakers table with him were Republican Sen. Irving M. Ives, who is running for governor of New York in the Nov. 2 election, and his Democratic opponent, Averell Harriman.

He singled out the late Al Smith, who was governor of New York and the 1928 Democratic presidential nominee, as a man who would have applauded newly enacted laws aimed at ousting subversives "from influential positions."

Tribute To Smith

And GOP Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, who declined to seek a fourth term, said of Smith:

"Nobody would have been such a magnificent champion of the struggle against communism as he."

The President's speech — tabbed "nonpolitical" by the White House—came after a busy day in New York which included a three and a half hour tour of housing, highway and hospital projects. He also put the spurs to New York Republican workers in the party's home stretch drive for continued control of Congress in the Nov. 2 elections.

Endorsement Stands

Late in the day, the chief executive met with former Rep. Clifford P. Case of New Jersey — target of factional opposition within his own Republican party — and the White House reported after the conference that Eisenhower "has not changed one iota" in his endorsement of Case, in his bid for a U.S. Senate seat on the Republican ticket.

Among others, Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis) is lined up against Case.

Eisenhower's address Thursday night—carried nationwide on television and radio—was mainly a warm tribute to Al Smith, late governor of New York and 1928 Democratic presidential nominee.

The President said Smith "was incapable of entertaining or tolerating a thought directed toward the violent destruction of the governmental system of our free country."

Kearney College Refuses To Debate On Question Red China Recognition

By BARBARA HEMPHILL
Star Staff Writer

President Herbert L. Cushing of Nebraska State Teachers College at Kearney has notified the Speech Association of America the college will not take part in intercollegiate debate this year if the question is to be:

"Resolved: That the United States should extend diplomatic recognition to the Communist government of China."

Presidents of the four state teachers colleges agreed at a meeting last week that none would take part in debate on that subject, E. Albin Larson, secretary of the normal board, said.

Cushing explained his decision in a letter to Dr. Karl R. Wallace of the University of Illinois, president of the Speech Asosciation of America.

"I grant," Cushing said in the letter, "that I may be wrong to take the position that it is not fair to ask a debate group to spend 50 per cent of their time arguing in behalf of a government which is so diametrically opposed to the policy of containment which our government has adopted.

"Actually, it would seem just as reasonable to debat repeal of the 15th Amendment to the Constitution of the United States as to debate the recognition of Red China," he said.

"Much of our difficulty today, as I see it, in the matter of foreign policy," he said, "stems from the step which was taken in the recognition of Red Russia, and the problems which have resulted from the intervention of Red China in the provoking of the North Korean aggression."

Cushing said "I personally feel that back of it all (selection of the debate topic) is a bit of a desire on the part of somebody to indoctrinate a few thousand American college youth with what I consider to be a dangerous philosophy."

University of Nebraska and Wesleyan University debate coaches say they do not object to using the debate question, although it was not the topic they favored for selection this year.

Coaches of both universities voted for the farm price support program as their choice for the topic for intercollegiate debate.

Nearly all colleges and universities in the United States take part in the selection of the topic and the subject chosen for this year received a large majority of the votes.

Early in the spring each debate coach in the national speech association submits suggested topics to the main offices of several speech honorary organizations.

Then selection of the subject to be used is made by vote of all coaches from among the five questions the honorary groups find were suggested most often.

Both Don Olson of the University of Nebraska and A. J. Mueller of Wesleyan pointed out the subject chosen each year is likely to be a highly controversial one.

Debate students usually spend a good deal of their time on the topic chosen as the intercollegiate debate question for the year.

They argue the topic in intramural debates as preparation for taking part in inter-college tournaments.

Students must study both sides of any debate question, since often they are not informed until shortly before a debate which side they will argue.

Members of the state Intercollegiate Forensics Association are being polled to see whether a different topic will be selected for debate at the association's tournament to be held at Wayne in March.

At a meeting of the association the Rev. E. A. Conway of Creighton University moved that the members be polled on the question, Harold Ahrendts, Kearney debate coach, said.

Ahrendts said he has not yet received definite answers from the member colleges which include Wayne, Kearney, Creighton, Peru, Hastings, Doane, Omaha University, McCook Junior College, Midland and Wesleyan.

Ahrendts said that he, as Kearney College debate coach, supports Cushing's stand.

Ahrendts said he believes not many of the member schools would take part in the debate division of the speech tournament unless the topic is changed.

9 Allies Reach OK On Union

To Include Arms, Men Of Germany

PARIS (AP)—Nine anti-Communist allies of the Western world reached a historic agreement Thursday night on formation of the Western European Union. It will include the arms and men of an all but fully sovereign West Germany.

Foreign ministers of the nine nations virtually completed the agreements here Thursday, including the forging of tight controls over Germany's military potential for the rest of this century. Details were being hammered out so that each government may soon ask for ratification by their parliaments of treaties that will link West Germany to NATO.

Agreement to bring the Bonn republic into the proposed seven-nation Western European Union—adding West Germany and Italy to the already organized Benelux organization — followed quickly after the American, British, French and West German ministers agreed on terms to end the nearly 10-year occupation of Germany and restore, with a few exceptions, complete sovereignty to that part of the divided nation. That agreement was reached by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Sir Anthony Eden, French Premier Pierre Mendes-France and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

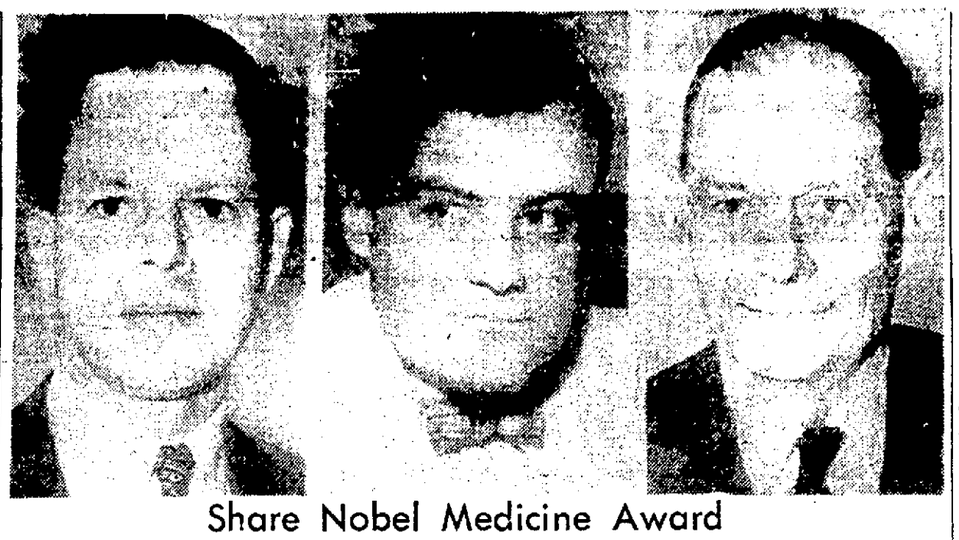

France — thrice invaded by Germany and two of those times in this century — won the approval of her partners for a far-reaching pattern of control which will bar the Germans from raising unlimited forces or making atomic weapons without French consent until 1998.

The other members of the Western European Union—better known as the Brussels Alliance of 1948—are Britain, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg. The Brussels Alliance has been reshaped to replace the defunct European Defense Community.

The agreements pave the way for West Germany's entry into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization as the 15th member of the alliance against Communism that girds most of the northern hemisphere. The NATO Council meets Friday to take that decision.

One major issue alone remains to be settled within the next 48 hours before the achievement of these goals can be considered assured.

It concerns the future status of the Saar—1,000 square miles of rich coal and steel producing territory which both the Germans and French want to control.

Nobel Prize Goes To 3 Americans

New Weapons Cited In Fight On Polio

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—The 1954 Nobel Prize in medicine and physiology was awarded Thursday night to three American scientists for discovering new weapons in the fight against polio.

The winners of the first Nobel Prize ever awarded for polio research are: Dr. John F. Enders of the Harvard Medical School; Dr. Thomas H. Weller of the Harvard School of Public Health; and their former associate, Dr. Frederick C. Robbins, now at Western Reserve Medical School in Cleveland.

They will share the $35,066 prize for their test tube discovery of "the ability of poliomyelitis to multiply in tissue from primates" —that is, apes and man. This made possible the polio vaccine program in the United States.

The medical prize and awards for literature, physics and chemistry — still to be announced — will be handed out by Swedish King Gustav Adolf at a traditional ceremony in Stockholm Dec. 10. Announcement already has been made that the Nobel peace award will be withheld this year.

The medical prize is voted by the Caroline Institute of Medicine. Among others considered for this year's award was Dr. Vincent du Vigneaud, 53-year-old New York biochemist who has determined the chemical structure of two powerful hormones —oxycitin and vasopressin — that help in childbirth and control such vital organs as the mammary glands and kidneys.

Enders, Weller and Robbins conducted their investigations in the Research Division of Infectious Diseases of the Children's Medical Center, Boston, Mass. Enders is director of the division and Weller is assistant director.

They developed in 1949 a method of growing polio virus in cultures composed of nonnervous human tissue in a nutrient bath. This development made possible the growth of sufficient polio virus—of the three known strains—so that the 1954 polio vaccine program could be carried out in the United States. Results of that program are still being compiled.

quent check proved that person had died of "natural causes."

Another state witness, Lt. John W. Duffek, guard prison officer, testified to "shaking down" the cell of Inmate Harvey Durbin and finding a vapor rub jar containing a $5 and three $1 bills.

He said he was directed to make the search after McClelland told St. Robert Nichols that he had given money taken from Claussen's billfold to Durbin.

On cross-examination. Duffek said he questioned McClelland about 10 minutes that night—about McClelland wanting to confess—to make sure it "was not a cock and bull story" before notifying higher prison authorities.

FBI Men Testify

Earlier in the day, two FBI agents from Washington, D. C. testified as to laboratory findings in regards to McClelland's shoes.

(These shoes were identified earlier as the pair taken from McClelland.)

FBI Agent Henry B. Heiberger said metal particles found on the shoes had the same elements and trace elements as those found in the sweepings taken from the floor of the prison print shop.

(Earlier, Capt. Smith testified McClelland said he wore the "outside brown shoes on April 16" and recalled the last time he was in the print shop was on April 8.)

Another agent, Peter G. Duncan testified earlier he "found no blood on the shoes" in making a microscopic examination of them.

Duncan identified particles found on the chair leg (alleged to have been used to kill Claussen) as human blood, but said the blood appeared to have been smeared or rubbed.

(Capt. Harold Smith testified that McClelland related wiping the chair leg with his gloves after the slaying.)

Duncan also identified as "human blood" of Group "O" the red stains on Claussen's clothing —shirt, tie and pants—and on the pocket knife (belonging to Claussen) used to cut his throat.

Sheriff Merle Karnopp told of taking the articles to the FBI Laboratory in Washington.

U.S. Arrests Puerto Rico Red Leader

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department said Thursday night Ramon Mirabal Carrion, 41, secretary general of the Communist party in Puerto Rico, had been arrested in Hidalgo, Texas, on charges he advocated the violent overthrow of the U. S. government.

Mirabal Carrion was taken into custody by FBI agents.

J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI, said Mirabal Carrion's arrest was made in conjunction with the seizure Wednesday of 10 other leading members of the Puerto Rican Communist party in New York City and Puerto Rico.

Underground

Hoover said Mirabal Carrion disappeared from his San Juan, Puerto Rico, home on June 27, this year, and "entered the Communist party's underground network."

He was specifically charged with violating the Smith Act, which forbids the advocacy of the forcible overthrow of this government.

Hoover said in a statement that Mirabal Carrion went to Puerto Rico from Newark, N. J. in the spring of 1950 and was immediately assigned to the Ponce area as an organizer for the Puerto Rican Communist party.

Navy Ends Clearance To Condon

Thomas Orders Further Review

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy Thursday suspended the limited security clearance it gave last July to Dr. Edward U. Condon, physicist and former head of the government's Bureau of Standards.

Condon

Secretary of the Navy Thomas ordered a further review of the whole case. He said that after a personal study he had decided that "there is sufficient evidence to warrant my requesting a complete reconsideration of this action."

No hint of the nature of the evidence was given.

The 52 - year - old atomic expert, who is now research director for the Corning glass works, commented at Corning, N. Y.:

"I have been fully cleared four times by four different boards, the last of which was on July 12, 1954 . . . I shall be pleased to be cleared a fifth time, and I know that a review of my record will end in such clearance."

The glass company, which does work for the Navy, said it would await further information from Secretary Thomas but said in a statement:

"Dr. Condon will continue to be employed in nonclassified work until such time as a more complete ruling and determination of this can be made."

Profit From Home Slated For Center

Belmont Construction Company plans to donate to the Belmont Community Center the profit from its 100th house to be built in the area.

About 100 employees of the company plan to donate a day's labor for the community center. Construction on the building will begin in the spring.

Gene Housel, president of the construction company, announced the plan at a Belmont Center board meeting.

Chester Dill, director of the center, reported that 1,759 persons came to the Center during September.

About $30,911 has been raised for the new Center building, C. Bertrand Schultz, president of the board, said.

After Nov. 1 pledges for the fund can be paid to Dill at the Center or to Al Glandt, building fund treasurer, at First National Bank.

Fruitless Search

POWERS LAKE, N. D. (AP) — Weary National Guardsmen and other volunteers began returning home Thursday night after four days of fruitless search in this sparsely settled section of northwestern North Dakota for a little youngster who wandered from his parents' farm.

Clues were skimpy in the hunt for Lavern Enget, 4, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Obert Enget. Airplane and helicopter pilots who participated in the big search were sure the boy must have been halted somewhere.

Peace Hinted

LONDON (AP)—A surprise hint that peace may be near in Britain's waterfront strike came Thursday night from government circles as the walkout's paralyzing grip dug even deeper into the island kingdom's economy.

The 18-day strike of some 44,000 workers in the nation's major seaports has tied up 300 million dollars worth of exports and imports and has idled more than 330 ships.

Kingery Bids Low For Eastridge

Kingery Construction Co. submitted the apparent low bids for Eastridge Elementary School.

They bid $267,000 without a damage clause and $273,000 with the damage clause.

Second low bidder without a damage clause was Assenmacher Construction Co. with $278,981. George Cook Construction Co. was second apparent low bidder with the clause for $288,796.

Five firms submitted bids.

The contract probably will be awarded at the Board of Education meeting Tuesday, Superintendent Steven Watkins said.

Aid Hiked

WASHINGTON (AP)— The United States agreed Thursday to step up sharply its aid to Pakistan, to a total of about 155 million dollars this fiscal year. The aim is to bolster the economy of a key partner in the defense system against Communism.

Of the total, 105 million would go for economic assistance, as compared with 20 million in the fiscal year ended last June. It was reported that military aid would total about 50 million, a 100 per cent increase over the figure previously planned for the current year.

Four Injured

CHICAGO (AP)—Three ground crewmen and a city fireman were injured when a United Airlines DC6 was enveloped in flames while refueling at Midway Airport Thursday.

Nine passengers and four members of the plane's flight crew escaped injury. Stewardess Emily W. Wagner of New York City led the passengers to safety through the regular exit, while three crewmen trapped in the forward compartment escaped through an emergency hatch.

Agreement to bring the Bonn republic into the proposed seven-nation Western European Union—adding West Germany and Italy to the already organized Benelux organization — followed quickly after the American, British, French and West German ministers agreed on terms to end the nearly 10-year occupation of Germany and restore, with a few exceptions, complete sovereignty to that part of the divided nation. That agreement was reached by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Sir Anthony Eden, French Premier Pierre Mendes-France and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

France — thrice invaded by Germany and two of those times in this century — won the approval of her partners for a far-reaching pattern of control which will bar the Germans from raising unlimited forces or making atomic weapons without French consent until 1998.

The other members of the Western European Union—better known as the Brussels Alliance of 1948—are Britain, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg. The Brussels Alliance has been reshaped to replace the defunct European Defense Community.

The agreements pave the way for West Germany's entry into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization as the 15th member of the alliance against Communism that girds most of the northern hemisphere. The NATO Council meets Friday to take that decision.

One major issue alone remains to be settled within the next 48 hours before the achievement of these goals can be considered assured.

It concerns the future status of the Saar—1,000 square miles of rich coal and steel producing territory which both the Germans and French want to control.

Nobel Prize Goes To 3 Americans

New Weapons Cited In Fight On Polio

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—The 1954 Nobel Prize in medicine and physiology was awarded Thursday night to three American scientists for discovering new weapons in the fight against polio.

The winners of the first Nobel Prize ever awarded for polio research are: Dr. John F. Enders of the Harvard Medical School; Dr. Thomas H. Weller of the Harvard School of Public Health; and their former associate, Dr. Frederick C. Robbins, now at Western Reserve Medical School in Cleveland.

They will share the $35,066 prize for their test tube discovery of "the ability of poliomyelitis to multiply in tissue from primates" —that is, apes and man. This made possible the polio vaccine program in the United States.

The medical prize and awards for literature, physics and chemistry — still to be announced — will be handed out by Swedish King Gustav Adolf at a traditional ceremony in Stockholm Dec. 10. Announcement already has been made that the Nobel peace award will be withheld this year.

The medical prize is voted by the Caroline Institute of Medicine. Among others considered for this year's award was Dr. Vincent du Vigneaud, 53-year-old New York biochemist who has determined the chemical structure of two powerful hormones —oxycitin and vasopressin — that help in childbirth and control such vital organs as the mammary glands and kidneys.

Enders, Weller and Robbins conducted their investigations in the Research Division of Infectious Diseases of the Children's Medical Center, Boston, Mass. Enders is director of the division and Weller is assistant director.

They developed in 1949 a method of growing polio virus in cultures composed of nonnervous human tissue in a nutrient bath. This development made possible the growth of sufficient polio virus—of the three known strains—so that the 1954 polio vaccine program could be carried out in the United States. Results of that program are still being compiled.

quent check proved that person had died of "natural causes."

Another state witness, Lt. John W. Duffek, guard prison officer, testified to "shaking down" the cell of Inmate Harvey Durbin and finding a vapor rub jar containing a $5 and three $1 bills.

He said he was directed to make the search after McClelland told St. Robert Nichols that he had given money taken from Claussen's billfold to Durbin.

On cross-examination, Duffek said he questioned McClelland about 10 minutes that night—about McClelland wanting to confess—to make sure it "was not a cock and bull story" before notifying higher prison authorities.

FBI Men Testify

Earlier in the day, two FBI agents from Washington, D. C. testified as to laboratory findings in regards to McClelland's shoes.

(These shoes were identified earlier as the pair taken from McClelland.)

FBI Agent Henry B. Heiberger said metal particles found on the shoes had the same elements and trace elements as those found in the sweepings taken from the floor of the prison print shop.

(Earlier, Capt. Smith testified McClelland said he wore the "outside brown shoes on April 16" and recalled the last time he was in the print shop was on April 8.)

Another agent, Peter G. Duncan testified earlier he "found no blood on the shoes" in making a microscopic examination of them.

Duncan identified particles found on the chair leg (alleged to have been used to kill Claussen) as human blood, but said the blood appeared to have been smeared or rubbed.

(Capt. Harold Smith testified that McClelland related wiping the chair leg with his gloves after the slaying.)

Duncan also identified as "human blood" of Group "O" the red stains on Claussen's clothing —shirt, tie and pants—and on the pocket knife (belonging to Claus sen) used to cut his throat.

Sheriff Merle Karnopp told of taking the articles to the FBI Laboratory in Washington.

U.S. Arrests Puerto Rico Red Leader

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department said Thursday night Ramon Mirabal Carrion, 41, secretary general of the Communist party in Puerto Rico, had been arrested in Hidalgo, Texas, on charges he advocated the violent overthrow of the U. S. government.

Mirabal Carrion was taken into custody by FBI agents.

J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI, said Mirabal Carrion's arrest was made in conjunction with the seizure Wednesday of 10 other leading members of the Puerto Rican Communist party in New York City and Puerto Rico.

Underground

Hoover said Mirabal Carrion disappeared from his San Juan, Puerto Rico, home on June 27, this year, and "entered the Communist party's underground network."

He was specifically charged with violating the Smith Act, which forbids the advocacy of the forcible overthrow of this government.

Hoover said in a statement that Mirabal Carrion went to Puerto Rico from Newark, N. J. in the spring of 1950 and was immediately assigned to the Ponce area as an organizer for the Puerto Rican Communist party.

Navy Ends Clearance To Condon

Thomas Orders Further Review

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy Thursday suspended the limited security clearance it gave last July to Dr. Edward U. Condon, physicist and former head of the government's Bureau of Standards.

Condon

Secretary of the Navy Thomas ordered a further review of the whole case. He said that after a personal study he had decided that "there is sufficient evidence to warrant my requesting a complete reconsideration of this action."

No hint of the nature of the evidence was given.

The 52 - year - old atomic expert, who is now research director for the Corning glass works, commented at Corning, N. Y.:

"I have been fully cleared four times by four different boards, the last of which was on July 12, 1954 . . . I shall be pleased to be cleared a fifth time, and I know that a review of my record will end in such clearance."

The glass company, which does work for the Navy, said it would await further information from Secretary Thomas but said in a statement:

"Dr. Condon will continue to be employed in nonclassified work until such time as a more complete ruling and determination of this can be made."

Profit From Home Slated For Center

Belmont Construction Company plans to donate to the Belmont Community Center the profit from its 100th house to be built in the area.

About 100 employees of the company plan to donate a day's labor for the community center. Construction on the building will begin in the spring.

Gene Housel, president of the construction company, announced the plan at a Belmont Center board meeting.

Chester Dill, director of the center, reported that 1,759 persons came to the Center during September.

About $30,911 has been raised for the new Center building, C. Bertrand Schultz, president of the board, said.

After Nov. 1 pledges for the fund can be paid to Dill at the Center or to Al Glandt, building fund treasurer, at First National Bank.

Fruitless Search

POWERS LAKE, N. D. (AP) — Weary National Guardsmen and other volunteers began returning home Thursday night after four days of fruitless search in this sparsely settled section of northwestern North Dakota for a little youngster who wandered from his parents' farm.

Clues were skimpy in the hunt for Lavern Enget, 4, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Obert Enget. Airplane and helicopter pilots who participated in the big search were sure the boy must have been halted somewhere.

Peace Hinted

LONDON (AP)—A surprise hint that peace may be near in Britain's waterfront strike came Thursday night from government circles as the walkout's paralyzing grip dug even deeper into the island kingdom's economy.

The 18-day strike of some 44,000 workers in the nation's major seaports has tied up 300 million dollars worth of exports and imports and has idled more than 330 ships.

Kingery Bids Low For Eastridge

Kingery Construction Co. submitted the apparent low bids for Eastridge Elementary School.

They bid $267,000 without a damage clause and $273,000 with the damage clause.

Second low bidder without a damage clause was Assenmacher Construction Co. with $278,981. George Cook Construction Co. was second apparent low bidder with the clause for $288,796.

Five firms submitted bids.

The contract probably will be awarded at the Board of Education meeting Tuesday, Superintendent Steven Watkins said.

Aid Hiked

WASHINGTON (AP)— The United States agreed Thursday to step up sharply its aid to Pakistan, to a total of about 155 million dollars this fiscal year. The aim is to bolster the economy of a key partner in the defense system against Communism.

Of the total, 105 million would go for economic assistance, as compared with 20 million in the fiscal year ended last June. It was reported that military aid would total about 50 million, a 100 per cent increase over the figure previously planned for the current year.

U Of N Asks Budget Hike Of 13 Per Cent

$23 Million Is Requested By Chancellor

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

The University of Nebraska submitted to the governor Thursday a proposed budget of $23,624,581, exclusive of revolving funds. Chancellor Clifford M. Hardin announced. Of this amount, $18,830,299 would be from tax funds.

The chancellor explained that it is an "honest budget for the type of university we believe Nebraska wants."

Two years ago the university asked $16,356,003 from tax funds and the Legislature appropriated $15,000,000.

Competition Factor

The problem of obtaining and keeping top staff members at the university to build around, in the face of competition from other schools as well as private industry, accounts for the increased need "more than any other factor," Chancellor Hardin said.

He pointed out that graduates of state high schools are now at the lowest part of the "birth rate curve" and that plans have to start now to care for increased enrollment 10 years hence. Attendance figures have been gradually increasing but are still below the rate of Eastern schools where population grew while declining in Nebraska during depression years.

The chancellor said that competition for educators is going to be even greater in the years ahead and that the present young "key" personnel could only be kept on a competitive basis.

Below Big Ten Pay

He said salaries now compare favorably with other Big Seven schools but are considerably below Big Ten schools.

The total budget including all funds amounts to 13 per cent more than the operating budget for the present biennium, or $3,830,299, Hardin said.

Of this increase, nearly one million dollars is allocated for maintenance of the enlarged physical plant and the state's contribution as an employer to the Social Security program which has been amended to allow coverage of university employees.

Salary and wage increases proposed average 4.5 per cent given on a merit basis or a total of $1,208,765. The development program will require an additional $1,353,190.

The development program would require an added $471,940 for the medical center in Omaha to improve facilities and services. In addition, there is an estimated $1,500,000 from the .25 mill medical college building fund levy authorized by the last Legislature.

New Construction Maintenance

Total for the operation of the medical center including the College of Medicine, School of Nursing and University Hospital would be $4,098,321.

The increase in maintenance funds, Dr. Hardin said, is due to new construction on the campuses and the expense of the temporary buildings which it is hoped can be eliminated.

"During the immediate post-war years when the returning veterans swelled our classrooms, the University learned that it was relatively easy to erect temporary buildings to house the enlarged student body," Dr. Hardin said. "But the task of assembling an efficient staff of teachers to serve this increase was overwhelming."

He explained that almost certain future growth makes it advisable to keep present competent staff members as experience showed that younger members require three to five years to "hit their stride."

In addition to development of the medical center, the budget calls for an increase of $284,900 to strengthen the College of Agriculture mainly for agricultural research and extension service work.

The development was explained as involving three main sources: (1) an institute of soil and water conservation; (2) reinstatement of the eight weeks short courses discontinued during World War II; (3) an experiment station in northeast Nebraska which would be donated by farmers of the area.

The College of Agriculture campus, including the experiment stations and extension service would receive a total of $6,290,453.

Arts and Science

The third principal development item, Dr. Hardin said, is $165,400 for the College of Arts and Sciences. "The purpose is to strengthen the instructional program offered by this college, the University's largest teaching unit," he said.

Part of this money would go toward hiring a corps of six instructors to improve freshman English instruction. Also planned is new emphasis on classical history under a competent historian-philosopher.

The four principal sources of funds are estimated at $18,000,000 of tax funds, $2,650,000 student fees, $1,703,862 federal funds, $100,000 from endowments.

Reappropriation will be asked of the $9,603,820 revolving funds from self-supporting activities such as dormitories, student union, dining halls, health center, intercollegiate athletics and tractor testing.

Breakdown Of Budget

Principal items listed in the University of Nebraska budget for the next biennium which was submitted to the governor are:

Ag College campus, $6,290,453.
Omaha Med. Center, $4,098,321.
Arts, Sciences College, $2,572,745.

$30,000 Is Asked For NE Test Station

A $30,000 item for operating a new branch experiment station in northeast Nebraska was included Thursday in the College of Agriculture section of the 1955-57 budget proposed by the University of Nebraska.

Chancellor Clifford M. Hardin said that under the proposal, a group of farmers would supply the land and facilities, and the $30,000 would go for the operation of the station.

The proposed station would be located somewhere in the Cedar-Wayne-Knox-Dakota County area, according to the plans.

The agricultural budget also contemplates reinstatement of an agricultural short course program of about eight weeks duration for farm boys who don't intend to go to the university.

Also included is provision for an institute of soil and water conservation, which would be a means of "pulling together" work along this line being done by different departments, and of providing liaison with outside agencies concerned with this field.

Part of this money would go toward hiring a corps of six instructors to improve freshman English instruction. Also planned is new emphasis on classical history under a competent historian-philosopher.

The four principal sources of funds are estimated at $18,000,000 of tax funds, $2,650,000 student fees, $1,703,862 federal funds, $100,000 from endowments.

Reappropriation will be asked of the $9,603,820 revolving funds from self-supporting activities such as dormitories, student union, dining halls, health center, intercollegiate athletics and tractor testing.

$30,000 Is Asked For NE Test Station

A $30,000 item for operating a new branch experiment station in northeast Nebraska was included Thursday in the College of Agriculture section of the 1955-57 budget proposed by the University of Nebraska.

Chancellor Clifford M. Hardin said that under the proposal, a group of farmers would supply the land and facilities, and the $30,000 would go for the operation of the station.

The proposed station would be located somewhere in the Cedar-Wayne-Knox-Dakota County area, according to the plans.

The agricultural budget also contemplates reinstatement of an agricultural short course program of about eight weeks duration for farm boys who don't intend to go to the university.

Also included is provision for an institute of soil and water conservation, which would be a means of "pulling together" work along this line being done by different departments, and of providing liaison with outside agencies concerned with this field.

Uses Her Head

ELIZABETHTOWN, Tenn. (AP)—A mother cat saved three kittens from a fire which destroyed an apartment house here. She carried them one at a time, up a pole and deposited them in an eave trough which had some water standing in it. Firemen later rescued the kittens.

Lost Effort

BOLTON, Conn. (AP) — Mrs. Geraldine Fagley nursed along a night blooming cereus for four years The night it was scheduled to bloom — a big night in the life of a flower lover — she found its four buds on the ground. A neighbor's dog had chewed them off.

STAN DELAPLANE'S POSTCARD

If you ask me, there is a lot of ill-considered writing going on in the world. My magazine stands simply bloom with bound wordage.

It is very attractive binding. On Bloody Detective Stories a lady in scanty costume is having her head sawed off with a dull knife.

On the varnished cover of the pocket books, a frigate is sinking.

Golfers drive into my face. Ike flashes me a smile. Tigers snarl. Miss Universe dives into an aquamarine pool. All on the drug store magazine stand.

Ah, but what goes on the inside?

I give you Mr. Irving Hoffman, the bon vivant of Lindy's in New York.

In the event that I miss the fine print, Mr. Hoffman clips me items from obscure publications. Passages from Japanese digests and a Cat Bulletin from Formosa.

Thus—a long way around, true—but anyway, thus to ladies cheeks.

The subject of ladies' cheeks is taken up by a writer in one of these condensed magazines. And it has spoiled my whole day.

"Run your fingers over the cheek of a pretty girl," the writer begins And right there he has me. I am an experimental type

Before I could catch a suitable subject, I am into the next paragraph.

"Your brain telegraphs to your consciousness (we know little or nothing about the mechanics of this) that her skin is extraordinarily smooth!"

This is the confounded problem with writers. They cannot take a pretty girl and run their fingers over her cheek, No, they have to analyze it.

They call out Western Union boys and send telegrams to their brains.

"Dear Brain: The cheek of the girl is extraordinarily smooth. Aunt Mebel arrives next week. Love."

Now he goes on to compound the felony.

"The truth is that our sense of touch is so grossly coarse that we cannot even sense or touch the skin proper!

"If you magnified the skin only a modest 10,000 times, you would find a thick layer of huge coarse rocks—the girl's powder and makeup."

"Underneath this is another thick blanket of oil and perspiration."

This just goes to show you what happens when you turn anybody loose with a typewriter.

Obviously this man has never touched a lady's cheek. Or he should go back for another touch.

A lady's cheek is not like rocks at all. A lady's cheeck is like damask is what I say. And the reason I say so is because I am a poet. And a Southern gentleman, that's why.

Nehru Sightseeing

TOKYO (INS)—India's Prime Minister Nehru spent his first full day in Peiping on visits to a Communits school, the Peiping zoo, sightseeing and a lunch at the summer palcaae in the Chinese Communis capital. Radio Peiping broadcast the report of Nehru's activities and said he was "warmly welcomed" on the campus of the Central Institute for Nationalities, a university, by 1,000 students of 40 different nationalities.

Time For Smiles

That was good news which came from Paris. Britain, France, West Germany and the United States had reached full agreement on terms for restoring German sovereignty and terminating allied occupation.

Under the provisions of the agreement, West Germany, a solid defense against Communist aggression, gets back its freedom, is authorized to establish a 500,000-man German army as an ally of the West, and the path bringing West Germany within the Brussels alliance and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization pact has been cleared of the main obstacles.

Smiles wreathed the faces of those participating in the conference that has ended so happily, the news columns reported.

Why not?

It was only a month ago when French rejection of the European Defense Community treaty plunged hopes into the deepest pit of gloom. Here in a few short weeks the skies clear and the sun comes out.

Adhered to in good faith, the settlement reached in Paris insuring West German sovereignty and bringing its people into a working partnership with the other free nations of the West could be the most important gain achieved since the close of World War II.

Strong Words By A Banker

We doubt many Americans in their busy everyday life will take time out to carefully read the story of the appearance of an Arkansas banker before a Senate subcommittee investigating the so-called Dixon-Yates power contract to furnish electricity to TVA.

No pink, no punk, no Commie—Mr. Arthur E. McLean, a soft-spoken 62-year-old bank executive, the president of the Commercial National Bank of Little Rock—explained his appearance to testify before the subcommittee on the grounds that he had the feeling the "greed" of private utilities may lead to their own destruction. He told the subcommittee he wanted to see private enterprise survive in the United States. He said he had voted for President Eisenhower in the election of 1952 and hopes he will make a great President. It was President Eisenhower who ordered AEC by presidential directive to contract with Dixon-Yates to supply the power to TVA, replacing power taken from TVA by the Atomic Energy Commission.

In fulfillment of that contract, the Dixon-Yates group is to build a $107 million steam plant at West Memphis, Arkansas.

"My one and only purpose," McLean explained to the subcommittee, is to stop the greed of a few of the utilities who will destroy themselves if they don't act in moderation."

In the course of his testimony, Banker McLean charged that the utility serving him—Arkansas Power and Light, controlled by Middle South Utilities, Inc., one of the partners in the Dixon-Yates contract—sought to impose electric rates he believed to be exorbitant and excessive. He said that he told the power company that it might be killing the goose that laid the golden egg. Its rates, he said, were so high life could not afford to keep an electric stove in his home.

Now, Mr. McLean is the second prominent southerner to appear before the Senate subcommittee in protest against the Dixon-Yates contract. His testimony follows that of another distinguished southern business man, a former utility company vice president, who for the better portion of a week occupied the witness stand in criticism of the contract that has become one of the hottest potatoes in Washington controversy.

Here is business—most vital business—to occupy the energies and attention of the 84th Congress to be elected next month—unless this contract is rammed through and signed before the members of the 84th Congress take their places. It is a contract infinitely more far-reaching in its implications in the field of electrical development, particularly in connection with the peacetime application of atomic energy, than the public understands at this time. This contract guarantees Dixon-Yates a 9 per cent return upon its investment in the steam plant in Arkansas. This contract relieves Dixon-Yates of any tax liability on any level—federal, state or local.

This contract, it would seem, is one of the most amazing documents to put in an appearance in many years.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

In the period including its meeting on June 29 of the current year and October 15—an approximate 3½ months—the Board of Regents acted upon 100 resignations from the instructional staff of the University of Nebraska, resignations by men and women in which in the great majority of cases they were attracted to other fields by higher salaries. In the world of higher education today, the competition for the services of outstanding, competent, qualified educators is keen. Universities and colleges are bidding against each other for the services of those educators they believe will add strength to faculties.

★

Swift Is The Pace

To suggest that swift is the pace is putting it mildly. In recent years there is not a university nor a college in the United States worthy of the name which has not recognized the discrimination in the financial compensation of men and women who devoted long years to preparation at heavy expense in order to qualify for the role filled by the teacher. Thus it is that in making public the budget for the next biennium for the University of Nebraska, its new chancellor, Dr. Clifford M. Hardin, told a news conference Thursday that the problem of obtaining and keeping top staff members at the university, in the face of competition from other schools as well as outside business and professions, accounts for the need of increased funds "more than any other factor. Our No. 1 problem is keeping staff members who can do us the most good," the chancellor added. "Competition for competent educators is going to be even greater in the years ahead. Increased enrollments will add up to terrific pressure for teachers." That is a most moderate, sound and forward-looking statement.

★

There are items in the budget which have not occurred heretofore. One is the social security request, amounting to $400,000, in order to place the teaching staff of the University of Nebraska under the provisions of the federal social security program in the event that the faculty itself chooses by referendum to adopt the social security program in lieu of a recognized inadequate pension program established several years ago. Social security would provide increased average benefits upon teacher retirement.

★

Given Careful Study

Nebraskans should understand that no University of Nebraska budget request in recent years has been given more painstaking, careful study by those responsible for the administration of the university than the one outlined by Dr. Hardin. It has been gone over with a fine-tooth comb with the single idea of requesting only that so urgently needed to maintain the university at a satisfactory level and to provide for only limited, most desirable expansion. The aggregate increase requested by the state university is $3,830,299.26. Of this increase, nearly a million dollars is accounted for in requested funds for maintenance of the university's enlarged physical plant and for the new item embodying the university's contribution as an employer to the social security program, which under the newly amended federal social security act allows coverage of the university employees. The largest single item of increase is for merit pay increases in order to avoid the understandable harmful, painful turnover in staff members. In the last analysis, it is a little bit more than a cold dollars-and-cents matter. There is a loss whenever any qualified instructor—including those occupying key posts, familiar with the conditions which confront Nebraska, with a knowledge of its people and their problems—leaves for other fields because of more attractive salaries paid by universities and colleges elsewhere.

★

It is not a case of keeping up with the Joneses. It is a matter of developing a state university serving Nebraska in the largest sense, contributing to research, strengthening the agricultural life of the state, turning out young men and young women capable of holding their own in this rapidly shifting world. Nebraska has made progress in the last 20 years. Its state university has contributed to that progress far more than appears superficially.

Sharper Reporting

Federal employment insurance workers in this 11-state area were told here Thursday by a Department of Labor representative from Washington to build up a more sensitive analytical unemployment reporting system.

He was not prophesying doom. But he was making some timely observations for the improvement of the service of the state unemployment compensation and employment agencies during a period of national leveling off. The hearing gets keener when unemployment becomes a reality.

There have been misleading flaws in the treatment of statistics. One of them is that unemployment insurance numbers have concantrated too greatly upon those unemployed who are receiving benefits, but have not followed those who are still unemployed but who have used up their insurance protection. And the agencies have not carried their statistics and studies among these latter persons. The result has been unrealistic reporting of unemployment.

More sensitive reporting will give communities a clearer view of their unemployment problem and an alert community will be thereby better able to meet its problems with timely projects.

It is not good business to worry about crises that may never develop. But it is also true that timely action is still one of the best preventatives.

The Constant Light

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt has just celebrated her seventieth birthday—an event probably of less importance to herself than to her great and affectionate throng of admirers.

The arrival at the riper years have brought a certain quiet to this women whose lot it was to spend many years as the wife of a man who directed the affairs of a great democratic nation through a stormy passage of war, economic disturbance and social change, in a field that encompassed the world. And it was her lot to go along in her way providing a constant light of sincere and welcome leadership in the field of the humanities.

But the seventieth birthday which comes to those of great maturity may have lacked the tumult of earlier years, nonetheless it found Mrs. Roosevelt still an active force for human betterment, moving forward steadily through the power of dedication and good works. She has had an enviable life and has done great good with it, unwaveringly pursuing a lofty goal. Her legion of admirers will testify to that. Her critics will concede it.

Oil Interests Make Gains Under GOP

WASHINGTON — Douglas McKay, the likable secretary of the interior, has taken exception to my calling him generous with the public domain apropos of his turning over 454 acres of the Rogue River National Forest to a mining company and his consideration of plans to release Alaskan oil lands, now reserved for the Navy and the Interior Departments, to private oil exploitation.

The subjects are important ones and deserve careful consideration.

Before considering them, however, I should like to report on another act of generosity which Secretary McKay has in the making. On the desk of his assistant secretary of the interior, Orme Lewis, is an order which would open up the wildlife refuges of the United States to private oil drilling.

The order has not yet been officially promulgated and may be sidetracked. However, it has been approved by Secretary McKay's top advisers, and there is every indication that it is all ready to sign.

Behind the order is the fact that for some years private oil companies have been maneuvering to drill inside certain wildlife refuges, particularly the Okefenokee, Ga., refuge. These game preserves were set aside by Congress for the specific purpose of preserving the natural wildlife of the nation, and the Okefenokee refuge is a big swampland abounding in bear, deer and birds.

☆ ☆ ☆

CHAPMAN SAYS NO

Some years ago, H. L. Hunt, the Texas oilman who has been such an ardent supporter of Sen. McCarthy, approached Secretary Oscar Chapman, then secretary of the interior, to obtain leases to drill on Okefenokee. Chapman refused.

"Congress set that land aside as a wildlife refuge not to be cluttered up with oil derricks," he told Hunt's representative.

Again, ex-Sen. Burton Wheeler of Montana approached Chapman with a proposal to drill for oil on the Medicine Lake Refuge in Montana. Again Chapman refused.

However, Wheeler, who is a good friend of Harry Truman, went over his head to the President, and later Truman took it up with his secretary of the interior. When Chapman explained the situation, Truman backed him up 100 per cent.

Now, however, the order which the oil companies have so long demanded, opening up our wildlife refuges to oil drilling, is all prepared for signature on Assistant Secretary Lewis's desk.

This is one reason why I believe the present secretary of the interior should not object to being called "generous" Doug McKay.

☆ ☆ ☆

SLICE OF DOUGLAS FIR

Here are some other reasons.

When I reported that Doug had sliced 454 acres of beautiful Douglas fir off the Rogue River National Forest and turned it over to the Al Sarena Mining Co., for only $5 an acre when it should have brought a total of $170,000—if sold at all—his able assistant, Larry Smyth, replied to inquiries that this had happened some time ago, and he released a statement attempting to justify the sale.

But Larry carefully glossed over the fact that previous Democratic secretaries of the interior had refused to sell this valuable Douglas tract; also the Doug's GOP cabinet colleague, Ezra Benson, was opposed to the sale; and that all sorts of backstage wirepulling was resorted to through Oregon Congressman Ellsworth, a friend of McKay's, to get the sale okayed.

And it seemed strange indeed that Congressman Ellsworth in Oregon should be using his influence to help out a company in distant Alabama.

U.S. World Role Is Entering Campaign

WASHINGTON—In the current congressional campaign, as in every political contest in recent years, the conduct of foreign policy is being hotly disputed.

A favorite theme of most Republican speakers is that the GOP is the party of peace and the Democratic party the party of war. Speaking in Missouri the other day, Republican National Chairman Leonard Hall put it as bluntly as it could be put:

"The Truman-Acheson foreign policy got us into war, the Eisenhower-Dulles foreign policy got us out of war."

Adlai Stevenson and many Democratic orators have charged the Eisenhower administration with bungling in foreign policy and alienating the friends around the world that had been won under the Democrats. Particularly in areas where employment remains high and prosperity has held up, Democratic candidates, perhaps for lack of other issues, lace into the present administration on foreign policy.

☆ ☆ ☆

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles has deliberately kept out of the campaign, and to date no one directly connected with the shaping of foreign policy has made a political speech. Probably if Dulles could have his way the issues of foreign policy would also be kept out of the rough and tumble of the hustings. But that is impossible when both sides are aroused and, when the large questions of the day almost all impinge in one way or another on the foreign field.

The fact, however, that this latest political wrangle over America's role in the world comes at a moment of uncertainty and crisis cannot be ignored. No matter what the final outcome, the scars of the campaign are bound to affect the conduct of foreign policy and particularly if the Congress is in control of one party and the executive of another. Democrats being called appeasers, warmongers, pro-Communists and other harsh names will not be exactly eager to co-operate with a Republican secretary of state.

In the heat of battle the realities of America's world position—how we got where we are and where we go from here—are conveniently ignored. An objective look at the foreign side of the political ledger shows the picture to be so dark as to make Republican claims sound like just what they are—campaign oratory of the most hollow kind. Whatever the validity of the Democratic attack, it is a political luxury in the face of the continuing threat of Communist aggression that even the most powerful nation in the world can ill afford.

On November 3 when the shouting and the tumult are over, the whole grim business will be on America's doorstep. Then in the wake of the political brawl the question will be whether an effective bipartisanship can be revived.

There are hopeful portents. Even in the heat of the campaign some Democrats have continued to work on the bipartisan line. Senator Mike Mansfield of Montana, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, was designated by the ranking Democrat on that committee, Senator Walter George of Georgia, to accompany Dulles to the Manila conference. Mansfield praised the job Dulles did. On his return he issued a report on Indo-China giving a more realistic appraisal of past and present errors there than had come from any other official American source. And this, too, must be put down as a service to bipartisanship, since only with a stern knowledge of the realties is it possible to formulate a workable foreign policy.

But the strain after the election is bound to be great particularly as partisanship in the last days of the campaign goes beyond all bounds of fair play and decency. If there is a Republican defeat of the proportions indicated by such barometers as Maine and Alaska, the right wing of the party will denounce the Eisenhower wing, thereby widening the dissension within his own party that has been one of the President's problems. This is certain to erupt in the fierce Senate debate over censure of Senator Joseph R. McCarthy, as recommended by the committee that sat in judgment on his conduct.

In the matter of a bipartisan foreign policy, the Eisenhower administration has never taken the kind of steps that the Truman administration took to insure that, in part at least, the carrying out of foreign policy was nonpolitical. In the previous administration prominent and able Republicans were appointed to difficult diplomatic posts. One example was John J. McCloy, now head of the Chase National Bank, who served as American high commissioner in West Germany.

The appointment of some Democrats genuinely qualified for responsible positions might contribute to a more truly bipartisan regard for the continuing leadership role that this country must take. But something on a much larger and more compelling scale seems to be required if the line is to be held and the Asian nations still outside the Iron Curtain are to be kept on the non-Communist side. Perhaps a nation-wide non-political committee of leading citizens to alert America to the dangers just ahead and the need to meet those dangers with steady, resolute, far-reaching action would be a help.

The danger is not only of dissension but of drift in the face of the divisions here at home. To follow the line of least resistance for two years could be fatal to America's position in the Far East. The damage done must be repaired. But a return to things as they were before the political artillery opened up is not enough. There must be action—broad, positive, dramatic—with a working unity above the spurious claims and the demagogic attacks of a political campaign.

Mrs. Helen Marr's thoughts turn to something else when autumn reaches Walthill. Of German descent, her father always took over the task of sauerkraut-making in the fall of the year because to him it was an art not to be entrusted to unqualified hands. Cabbage heads had to be solid and well-filled. Temperature was important, or one might have soft, spoiled cabbage instead of the delicious, crisp, tart kraut desired. There was the cutting, the salting, the tamping, just so, in a 10-gallon crock. Three inches of cabbage, then salt—a four-finger pinch to a layer of cabbage — and pressing with a wooden potato masher. Then another layer. Over the top of the crock went clean cheese cloth or muslin, a board, and the same big rock that was used year after year. The family had their fill from the jar all winter long, and in the spring the remainder was placed in jars and sealed for summer use. Raw or cooked with spareribs, it was an eat-treat to remember.

This is the time of year when "No Hunting" and "No Trespassing" signs go up, a fact that derives very little sympathy from Jim Conway of the Spalding Enterprise. Like a lot of our other troubles, says he, we have brought them upon ourselves. In reading his own hometown paper, he saw an account telling that a friend's cow had been shot through the neck on the opening day of squirrel season. "By no stretch of the imagination could a cow resemble a squirrel," he pointed out. "But the cow is dead and the farm is now posted with those little old signs."

Unity Need

Lincoln, Neb.

To the Editor of The Lincoln Star: The voters must not tie Eisenhower's hands with a Democratic Congress; to do so would be disastrous.

In making that statement, I am not being partisan. I am referring to the need for national unity in a time of crisis.

The United States is faced with two difficult problems which would not ordinarily be present. Those problems are Communism and world adjustment from World War II. To divide our leadership against itself when strong leadership is needed would be poor strategy in the global cold war. To quibble about either relatively unimportant domestic affairs and/or the means to the end of defeating Communism would be risking the defeat of the United States. All other matters must be secondary to the winning of the cold war. We are just beginning to learn how to fight a cold war, for not only does it enslave a people outwardly, but their minds as well; there is no definite front at which the resources of a nation may be sent to fight it. The front is everywhere.

It has been the most successful war waged by any foreign power in our time. Vast areas, great resources and 800 million people have fallen to them. I repeat, all other matters must be secondary to the winning of the cold war. To divide our leadership against itself would be poor strategy in the most dangerous of all wars which we are now fighting.

The American people have always recognized the need for keeping the same leadership at crucial moments. The re-election of Lincoln, Wilson, and the unprecedented third and fourth terms for F.D.R. are good examples of this. That Eisenhower himself isn't running for President has no bearing upon the fact that his leadership is being challenged, and at a crucial point when it is needed. For either Republicans or Democrats to indulge in partisanship would be creating disunity at a time when unity is most needed.

A Literary Touch

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: This cock-and-bull story of Congressman Stringfellow's is more amusing than amazing. After all, why shouldn't we develop an occasional Baron Munchausen? We just have to have heroes and our factual records ruin them before they get airborne. Now, Mr. Stringfellow has a literary touch. He probably doesn't belong in Congress. He should be writing for the magazines. His story of capturing the German Scientist shows great possibilities. With practice he can do better yet.

I imagine the wonderful classical stories of the Greek hero, Ulysses started off in the same way. The stout Ulysses probably told his wife, Penelope, he was going out to check over the stock in the back pasture and then he just wandered off and kept going and going. When he came back again a few years later, he realized that he had to do some fast talking to hold Penelope. So, he began and told the fascinating story of Polyophemus and how he polished off the one-eyed giant through his superior guile and initiative. That rousing story probably left the faithful wife weak and amazed rather than resentful. But the next day when she came back with more questions, he was ready for her with the story of Scylla and Charybdis. That one doubtless left her spinning and ga-ga. But by this time she had him on the run and simply forced him to keep telling bigger and better ones just like Congressman Stringfellow. But Ulysses like Stringfellow finally had to make the whole thing super and so he told the story about going to Hades. Then Penelope accepted him for just what he was, just as we have done with Mr. Stringfellow.

Perhaps we are simply too factual. Perhaps we have killed our stories and story-telling by insisting on too much documentation. Let's not be too rough on Mr. Stringfellow. His imagination may keep him out of Congress but that is a small matter. Maybe he's got something better than Paul Bunyan or the tall tales of Texas. If we will only handle Congressman Stringfellow as well as old blind Homer handled Ulysses, we may arrive at something worth more than many seats in Congress.

Seeds Of Greatness

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: If headlines mean anything, then our nation's 'teen-aged youth are certainly a bunch of ingrates. For instance, here is one of those headlines: "Baltimore City Hall Stormed By White Pupils Protesting Integration of Negroes." Looks as if our white youngsters just won't stand for studying along with Negro boys and girls.

But it only looks that way. Actually it isn't the case at all. Kids themselves simply do not question the color line. Young America is unprejudiced.

Anyone who thinks those kids in Baltimore started the race rioting has a lot to learn. Most likely their own parents incited them. Yes, I know kids are not a generation of angels, but the important thing to remember is that racial prejudice is not an issue with them. We have enough trouble building character into the lives of our youth without destroying natural virtues which are already there.

These pro-segregation demonstrations are not to fool us into thinking less that our young people are prejudiced. Our youth have the seeds of greatness in them because they are not prejudiced. Let's encourage them to be great.

Election Costs

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Mrs. Abel is opposing William H. Meier of Minden for the short term senatorship. Time For Smiles

That was good news which came from Paris. Britain, France, West Germany and the United States had reached full agreement on terms for restoring German sovereignty and terminating allied occupation.

Under the provisions of the agreement, West Germany, a solid defense against Communist aggression, gets back its freedom, is authorized to establish a 500,000-man German army as an ally of the West, and the path bringing West Germany within the Brussels alliance and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization pact has been cleared of the main obstacles.

Smiles wreathed the faces of those participating in the conference that has ended so happily, the news columns reported.

Why not?

It was only a month ago when French rejection of the European Defense Community treaty plunged hopes into the deepest pit of gloom. Here in a few short weeks the skies clear and the sun comes out.

Adhered to in good faith, the settlement reached in Paris insuring West German sovereignty and bringing its people into a working partnership with the other free nations of the West could be the most important gain achieved since the close of World War II.

Strong Words By A Banker

We doubt many Americans in their busy everyday life will take time out to carefully read the story of the appearance of an Arkansas banker before a Senate subcommittee investigating the so-called Dixon-Yates power contract to furnish electricity to TVA.

No pink, no punk, no Commie—Mr. Arthur E. McLean, a soft-spoken 62-year-old bank executive, the president of the Commercial National Bank of Little Rock—explained his appearance to testify before the subcommittee on the grounds that he had the feeling the "greed" of private utilities may lead to their own destruction. He told the subcommittee he wanted to see private enterprise survive in the United States. He said he had voted for President Eisenhower in the election of 1952 and hopes he will make a great President. It was President Eisenhower who ordered AEC by presidential directive to contract with Dixon-Yates to supply the power to TVA, replacing power taken from TVA by the Atomic Energy Commission.

In fulfillment of that contract, the Dixon-Yates group is to build a $107 million steam plant at West Memphis, Arkansas.

"My one and only purpose," McLean explained to the subcommittee, is to stop the greed of a few of the utilities who will destroy themselves if they don't act in moderation."

In the course of his testimony, Banker McLean charged that the utility serving him—Arkansas Power and Light, controlled by Middle South Utilities, Inc., one of the partners in the Dixon-Yates contract—sought to impose electric rates he believed to be exorbitant and excessive. He said that he told the power company that it might be killing the goose that laid the golden egg. Its rates, he said, were so high he could not afford to keep an electric stove in his home.

Now, Mr. McLean is the second prominent southerner to appear before the Senate subcommittee in protest against the Dixon-Yates contract. His testimony follows that of another distinguished southern business man, a former utility company vice president, who for the better portion of a week occupied the witness stand in criticism of the contract that has become one of the hottest potatoes in Washington controversy.

Here is business—most vital business—to occupy the energies and attention of the 84th Congress to be elected next month—unless this contract is rammed through and signed before the members of the 84th Congress take their places. It is a contract infinitely more far-reaching in its implications in the field of electrical development, particularly in connection with the peacetime application of atomic energy, than the public understands at this time. This contract guarantees Dixon-Yates a 9 per cent return upon its investment in the steam plant in Arkansas. This contract relieves Dixon-Yates of any tax liability on any level—federal, state or local.

This contract, it would seem, is one of the most amazing documents to put in an appearance in many years.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

In the period including its meeting on June 29 of the current year and October 15—an approximate 3½ months—the Board of Regents acted upon 100 resignations from the instructional staff of the University of Nebraska, resignations by men and women in which in the great majority of cases they were attracted to other fields by higher salaries. In the world of higher education today, the competition for the services of outstanding, competent, qualified educators is keen. Universities and colleges are bidding against each other for the services of those educators they believe will add strength to faculties.

★

Swift Is The Pace

To suggest that swift is the pace is putting it mildly. In recent years there is not a university nor a college in the United States worthy of the name which has not recognized the discrimination in the financial compensation of men and women who devoted long years to preparation at heavy expense in order to qualify for the role filled by the teacher. Thus it is that in making public the budget for the next biennium for the University of Nebraska, its new chancellor, Dr. Clifford M. Hardin, told a news conference Thursday that the problem of obtaining and keeping top staff members at the university, in the face of competition from other schools as well as outside business and professions, accounts for the need of increased funds "more than any other factor. Our No. 1 problem is keeping staff members who can do us the most good," the chancellor added. "Competition for competent educators is going to be even greater in the years ahead. Increased enrollments will add up to terrific pressure for teachers." That is a most moderate, sound and forward-looking statement.

★

There are items in the budget which have not occurred heretofore. One is the social security request, amounting to $400,000, in order to place the teaching staff of the University of Nebraska under the provisions of the federal social security program in the event that the faculty itself chooses by referendum to adopt the social security program in lieu of a recognized inadequate pension program established several years ago. Social security would provide increased average benefits upon teacher retirement.

★

Given Careful Study

Nebraskans should understand that no University of Nebraska budget request in recent years has been given more painstaking, careful study by those responsible for the administration of the university than the one outlined by Dr. Hardin. It has been gone over with a fine-tooth comb with the single idea of requesting only that so urgently needed to maintain the university at a satisfactory level and to provide for only limited, most desirable expansion. The aggregate increase requested by the state university is $3,830,299.26. Of this increase, nearly a million dollars is accounted for in requested funds for maintenance of the university's enlarged physical plant and for the new item embodying the university's contribution as an employer to the social security program, which under the newly amended federal social security act allows coverage of the university employees. The largest single item of increase is for merit pay increases in order to avoid the understandable harmful, painful turnover in staff members. In the last analysis, it is a little bit more than a cold dollars-and-cents matter. There is a loss whenever any qualified instructor—including those occupying key posts, familiar with the conditions which confront Nebraska, with a knowledge of its people and their problems—leaves for other fields because of more attractive salaries paid by universities and colleges elsewhere.

★

It is not a case of keeping up with the Joneses. It is a matter of developing a state university serving Nebraska in the largest sense, contributing to research, strengthening the agricultural life of the state, turning out young men and young women capable of holding their own in this rapidly shifting world. Nebraska has made progress in the last 20 years. Its state university has contributed to that progress far more than appears superficially.

Sharper Reporting

Federal employment insurance workers in this 11-state area were told here Thursday by a Department of Labor representative from Washington to build up a more sensitive analytical unemployment reporting system.

He was not prophesying doom. But he was making some timely observations for the improvement of the service of the state unemployment compensation and employment agencies during a period of national leveling off. The hearing gets keener when unemployment becomes a reality.

There have been misleading flaws in the treatment of statistics. One of them is that unemployment insurance numbers have concantrated too greatly upon those unemployed who are receiving benefits, but have not followed those who are still unemployed but who have used up their insurance protection. And the agencies have not carried their statistics and studies among these latter persons. The result has been unrealistic reporting of unemployment.

More sensitive reporting will give communities a clearer view of their unemployment problem and an alert community will be thereby better able to meet its problems with timely projects.

It is not good business to worry about crises that may never develop. But it is also true that timely action is still one of the best preventatives.

The Constant Light

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt has just celebrated her seventieth birthday—an event probably of less importance to herself than to her great and affectionate throng of admirers.

The arrival at the riper years have brought a certain quiet to this women whose lot it was to spend many years as the wife of a man who directed the affairs of a great democratic nation through a stormy passage of war, economic disturbance and social change, in a field that encompassed the world. And it was her lot to go along in her way providing a constant light of sincere and welcome leadership in the field of the humanities.

But the seventieth birthday which comes to those of great maturity may have lacked the tumult of earlier years, nonetheless it found Mrs. Roosevelt still an active force for human betterment, moving forward steadily through the power of dedication and good works. She has had an enviable life and has done great good with it, unwaveringly pursuing a lofty goal. Her legion of admirers will testify to that. Her critics will concede it.

Oil Interests Make Gains Under GOP

WASHINGTON — Douglas McKay, the likable secretary of the interior, has taken exception to my calling him generous with the public domain apropos of his turning over 454 acres of the Rogue River National Forest to a mining company and his consideration of plans to release Alaskan oil lands, now reserved for the Navy and the Interior Departments, to private oil exploitation.

The subjects are important ones and deserve careful consideration.

Before considering them, however, I should like to report on another act of generosity which Secretary McKay has in the making. On the desk of his assistant secretary of the interior, Orme Lewis, is an order which would open up the wildlife refuges of the United States to private oil drilling.

The order has not yet been officially promulgated and may be sidetracked. However, it has been approved by Secretary McKay's top advisers, and there is every indication that it is all ready to sign.

Behind the order is the fact that for some years private oil companies have been maneuvering to drill inside certain wildlife refuges, particularly the Okefenokee, Ga., refuge. These game preserves were set aside by Congress for the specific purpose of preserving the natural wildlife of the nation, and the Okefenokee refuge is a big swampland abounding in bear, deer and birds.

☆ ☆ ☆

CHAPMAN SAYS NO

Some years ago, H. L. Hunt, the Texas oilman who has been such an ardent supporter of Sen. McCarthy, approached Secretary Oscar Chapman, then secretary of the interior, to obtain leases to drill on Okefenokee. Chapman refused.

"Congress set that land aside as a wildlife refuge not to be cluttered up with oil derricks," he told Hunt's representative.

Again, ex-Sen. Burton Wheeler of Montana approached Chapman with a proposal to drill for oil on the Medicine Lake Refuge in Montana. Again Chapman refused.

However, Wheeler, who is a good friend of Harry Truman, went over his head to the President, and later Truman took it up with his secretary of the interior. When Chapman explained the situation, Truman backed him up 100 per cent.

Now, however, the order which the oil companies have so long demanded, opening up our wildlife refuges to oil drilling, is all prepared for signature on Assistant Secretary Lewis's desk.

This is one reason why I believe the present secretary of the interior should not object to being called "generous" Doug McKay.

SLICE OF DOUGLAS FIR

Here are some other reasons.

When I reported that Doug had sliced 454 acres of beautiful Douglas fir off the Rogue River National Forest and turned it over to the Al Sarena Mining Co., for only $5 an acre when it should have brought a total of $170,000—if sold at all—his able assistant, Larry Smyth, replied to inquiries that this had happened some time ago, and he released a statement attempting to justify the sale.

But Larry carefully glossed over the fact that previous Democratic secretaries of the interior had refused to sell this valuable Douglas tract; also the Doug's GOP cabinet colleague, Ezra Benson, was opposed to the sale; and that all sorts of backstage wirepulling was resorted to through Oregon Congressman Ellsworth, a friend of McKay's, to get the sale okayed.

And it seemed strange indeed that Congressman Ellsworth in Oregon should be using his influence to help out a company in distant Alabama.

U.S. World Role Is Entering Campaign

WASHINGTON—In the current congressional campaign, as in every political contest in recent years, the conduct of foreign policy is being hotly disputed.

A favorite theme of most Republican speakers is that the GOP is the party of peace and the Democratic party the party of war. Speaking in Missouri the other day, Republican National Chairman Leonard Hall put it as bluntly as it could be put:

"The Truman-Acheson foreign policy got us into war, the Eisenhower-Dulles foreign policy got us out of war."

Adlai Stevenson and many Democratic orators have charged the Eisenhower administration with bungling in foreign policy and alienating the friends around the world that had been won under the Democrats. Particularly in areas where employment remains high and prosperity has held up, Democratic candidates, perhaps for lack of other issues, lace into the present administration on foreign policy.

☆ ☆ ☆

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles has deliberately kept out of the campaign, and to date no one directly connected with the shaping of foreign policy has made a political speech. Probably if Dulles could have his way the issues of foreign policy would also be kept out of the rough and tumble of the hustings. But that is impossible when both sides are aroused and, when the large questions of the day almost all impinge in one way or another on the foreign field.

The fact, however, that this latest political wrangle over America's role in the world comes at a moment of uncertainty and crisis cannot be ignored. No matter what the final outcome, the scars of the campaign are bound to affect the conduct of foreign policy and particularly if the Congress is in control of one party and the executive of another. Democrats being called appeasers, warmongers, pro-Communists and other harsh names will not be exactly eager to co-operate with a Republican secretary of state.

In the heat of battle the realities of America's world position—how we got where we are and where we go from here—are conveniently ignored. An objective look at the foreign side of the political ledger shows the picture to be so dark as to make Republican claims sound like just what they are—campaign oratory of the most hollow kind. Whatever the validity of the Democratic attack, it is a political luxury in the face of the continuing threat of Communist aggression that even the most powerful nation in the world can ill afford.

On November 3 when the shouting and the tumult are over, the whole grim business will be on America's doorstep. Then in the wake of the political brawl the question will be whether an effective bipartisanship can be revived.

There are hopeful portents. Even in the heat of the campaign some Democrats have continued to work on the bipartisan line. Senator Mike Mansfield of Montana, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, was designated by the ranking Democrat on that committee, Senator Walter George of Georgia, to accompany Dulles to the Manila conference. Mansfield praised the job Dulles did. On his return he issued a report on Indo-China giving a more realistic appraisal of past and present errors there than had come from any other official American source. And this, too, must be put down as a service to bipartisanship, since only with a stern knowledge of the realties is it possible to formulate a workable foreign policy.

But the strain after the election is bound to be great particularly as partisanship in the last days of the campaign goes beyond all bounds of fair play and decency. If there is a Republican defeat of the proportions indicated by such barometers as Maine and Alaska, the right wing of the party will denounce the Eisenhower wing, thereby widening the dissension within his own party that has been one of the President's problems. This is certain to erupt in the fierce Senate debate over censure of Senator Joseph R. McCarthy, as recommended by the committee that sat in judgment on his conduct.

In the matter of a bipartisan foreign policy, the Eisenhower administration has never taken the kind of steps that the Truman adminstration took to insure that, in part at least, the carrying out of foreign policy was nonpolitical. In the previous administration prominent and able Republicans were appointed to difficult diplomatic posts. One example was John J. McCloy, now head of the Chase National Bank, who served as American high commissioner in West Germany.

The appointment of some Democrats genuinely qualified for responsible positions might contrbute to a more truly bipartisan regard for the continuing leadership role that this country must take. But something on a much larger and more compelling scale seems to be required if the line is to be held and the Asian nations still outside the Iron Curtain are to be kept on the non-Communist side. Perhaps a nation-wide non-political committee of leading citizens to alert America to the dangers just ahead and the need to meet those dangers with steady, resolute, far-reaching action would be a help.

The danger is not only of dissension but of drift in the face of the divisions here at home. To follow the line of least resistance for two years could be fatal to America's position in the Far East. The damage done must be repaired. But a return to things as they were before the political artillery opened up is not enough. There must be action—broad, positive, dramatic—with a working unity above the spurious claims and the demagogic attacks of a political campaign.

Mrs. Helen Marr's thoughts turn to something else when autumn reaches Walthill. Of German descent, her father always took over the task of sauerkraut-making in the fall of the year because to him it was an art not to be entrusted to unqualified hands. Cabbage heads had to be solid and well-filled. Temperature was important, or one might have soft, spoiled cabbage instead of the delicious, crisp, tart kraut desired. There was the cutting, the salting, the tamping, just so, in a 10-gallon crock. Three inches of cabbage, then salt—a four-finger pinch to a layer of cabbage — and pressing with a wooden potato masher. Then another layer. Over the top of the crock went clean cheese cloth or muslin, a board, and the same big rock that was used year after year. The family had their fill from the jar all winter long, and in the spring the remainder was placed in jars and sealed for summer use. Raw or cooked with spareribs, it was an eat-treat to remember.

This is the time of year when "No Hunting" and "No Trespassing" signs go up, a fact that derives very little sympathy from Jim Conway of the Spalding Enterprise. Like a lot of our other troubles, says he, we have brought them upon ourselves. In reading his own hometown paper, he saw an account telling that a friend's cow had been shot through the neck on the opening day of squirrel season. "By no stretch of the imagination could a cow resemble a squirrel," he pointed out. "But the cow is dead and the farm is now posted with those little old signs."

Unity Need

Lincoln, Neb.

To the Editor of The Lincoln Star: The voters must not tie Eisenhower's hands with a Democratic Congress; to do so would be disastrous.

In making that statement, I am not being partisan. I am referring to the need for national unity in a time of crisis.

The United States is faced with two difficult problems which would not ordinarily be present. Those problems are Communism and world adjustment from World War II. To divide our leadership against itself when strong leadership is needed would be poor strategy in the global cold war. To quibble about either relatively unimportant domestic affairs and/or the means to the end of defeating Communism would be risking the defeat of the United States. All other matters must be secondary to the winning of the cold war. We are just beginning to learn how to fight a cold war, for not only does it enslave a people outwardly, but their minds as well; there is no definite front at which the resources of a nation may be sent to fight it. The front is everywhere.

It has been the most successful war waged by any foreign power in our time. Vast areas, great resources and 800 million people have fallen to them. I repeat, all other matters must be secondary to the winning of the cold war. To divide our leadership against itself would be poor strategy in the most dangerous of all wars which we are now fighting.

The American people have always recognized the need for keeping the same leadership at crucial moments. The re-election of Lincoln, Wilson, and the unprecedented third and fourth terms for F.D.R. are good examples of this. That Eisenhower himself isn't running for President has no bearing upon the fact that his leadership is being challenged, and at a crucial point when it is needed. For either Republicans or Democrats to indulge in partisanship would be creating disunity at a time when unity is most needed.

A Literary Touch

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: This cock-and-bull story of Congressman Stringfellow's is more amusing than amazing. After all, why shouldn't we develop an occasional Baron Munchausen? We just have to have heroes and our factual records ruin them before they get airborne. Now, Mr. Stringfellow has a literary touch. He probably doesn't belong in Congress. He should be writing for the magazines. His story of capturing the German Scientist shows great possibilities. With practice he can do better yet.

I imagine the wonderful classical stories of the Greek hero, Ulysses started off in the same way. The stout Ulysses probably told his wife, Penelope, he was going out to check over the stock in the back pasture and then he just wandered off and kept going and going. When he came back again a few years later, he realized that he had to do some fast talking to hold Penelope. So, he began and told the fascinating story of Polyophemus and how he polished off the one-eyed giant through his superior guile and initiative. That rousing story probably left the faithful wife weak and amazed rather than resentful. But the next day when she came back with more questions, he was ready for her with the story of Scylla and Charybdis. That one doubtless left her spinning and ga-ga. But by this time she had him on the run and simply forced him to keep telling bigger and better ones just like Congressman Stringfellow. But Ulysses like Stringfellow finally had to make the whole thing super and so he told the story about going to Hades. Then Penelope accepted him for just what he was, just as we have done with Mr. Stringfellow.

Perhaps we are simply too factual. Perhaps we have killed our stories and story-telling by insisting on too much documentation. Let's not be too rough on Mr. Stringfellow. His imagination may keep him out of Congress but that is a small matter. Maybe he's got something better than Paul Bunyan or the tall tales of Texas. If we will only handle Congressman Stringfellow as well as old blind Homer handled Ulysses, we may arrive at something worth more than many seats in Congress.

Seeds Of Greatness

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: If headlines mean anything, then our nation's 'teen-aged youth are certainly a bunch of ingrates. For instance, here is one of those headlines: "Baltimore City Hall Stormed By White Pupils Protesting Integration of Negroes." Looks as if our white youngsters just won't stand for studying along with Negro boys and girls.

But it only looks that way. Actually it isn't the case at all. Kids themselves simply do not question the color line. Young America is unprejudiced.

Anyone who thinks those kids in Baltimore started the race rioting has a lot to learn. Most likely their own parents incited them. Yes, I know kids are not a generation of angels, but the important thing to remember is that racial prejudice is not an issue with them. We have enough trouble building character into the lives of our youth without destroying natural virtues which are already there.

These pro-segregation demonstrations are not to fool us into thinking less that our young people are prejudiced. Our youth have the seeds of greatness in them because they are not prejudiced. Let's encourage them to be great.

GOP's Langer Debunks Ives' Charge Against Harriman

Nothing To It, Says Senator

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Langer (R-ND) said Thursday night he personally investigated in 1951 charges that Sen. Ives (R-NY) has levelled at Averell Harriman, the New York Democratic nominee for governor, and "I found there was nothing to it as far as Harriman was concerned."

Ives, the Republican gubernatorial nominee in New York, has charged that a now defunct shipping company headed by Harriman paid $250,000 to "a crooked judge" for pier leases in New York harbor in the 1920's.

Harriman has replied that he made no such payment and did not know about any improper payment.

'Complaint'

Langer said Thursday night that he had "received a written complaint" about the same incident in 1951 when the Senate was about to vote on the nomination of Harriman to become mutual security director.

Langer said he asked for a delay in consideration of the nomination and got it.

"I looked into the matter," Langer said. "I found there was nothing to it as far as Harriman was concerned. I did find that such an incident had occurred."

"My inquuries completely satisfied me as to Harriman."

Harriman Drops Plans For Debate

NEW YORK (AP)—Averell Harriman—with an explanation by his campaign manager that he would have no part of "gutter-fighting"—Thursday cancelled his part in a planned debate with Sen. Irving M. Ives.

There was no immediate comment from Ives, the Republican candidate for governor.

An hour-long debate on general campaign issues had been scheduled for a statewide television hookup Oct. 27, under sponsorship of the Citizens Union. The Democrats said Ives tentatively had agreed to take part.

Harriman, the Democratic nominee, did not personally anounce his action. But John P. McGrath, the Democratic state campaign manager, told newsmen he was representing Harriman's views when he declared.

"Such a debate could serve no constructive purpose because Ives' campaign has deteriorated into a gutter fight rather than a civilized exchange of views."

Peace Policy

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Vice President Nixon Thursday told University of Illinois students the Eisenhower administration established a foreign policy that brought peace and is designed to keep the United States out of war.

Addressing a crowd estimated by police at 8,000 to 10,000, Nixon also claimed these accomplishments for the Republican administration:

A security program that is fair, sane and effective and which is "ridding the government of disloyalty and corruption."

An economic policy that "has carried the nation safely through the transition of war to peace and is now going ahead toward the best peace time years and the best years, war or peace, in our history."

'Nation Of Haves'

NEW YORK (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey told investment bankers Thursday night that the Eisenhower administration is reshaping the nation's economic policies to fit the needs of "a nation of haves.' "

He said "a tremendous upheavel of this nation's whole economy" since the beginning of the century had "created a unique nation of 'haves' that needs an up-to-date way of thinking about itself . . ."

Truck-Auto Accident Kills Man

Coloradoan Killed When Pinned Under Big Truck

A Lakewood, Colo., man became Lincoln's fifth traffic fatality of the year early Thursday morning when his station wagon and a truck collided at 33rd and Holdrege.

The victim was identified as George C. Keefe, 28, who worked for a drapery and fabric company in New York City. Keefe's station wagon was headed north on 33rd when it collided with a Watson Bros. truck headed west.

Driver of the truck, Ansel J. Reed, 32, of 2825 Everett, said he swerved his truck in attempting to avoid the accident. The truck struck a fire hydrant and tipped over on its side and on top of Keefe who was thrown from his station wagon by the impact of the two vehicles.

The truck was carrying 30,000 pounds of general merchandise, including paint, wire, and other material, according to police investigating the accident. The collision occurred, according to police records, at 2:38 a.m.

Keefe's death followed by a little more than eight hours the death of Herman F. Bauman, 75, of College View, who apparently died instantly in a two-car collision on a gravel road two miles southeast of the city limits.

Keefe was pinned under the truck by the curb in front of the drugstore on the northwest corner of the intersection. House moving equipment was needed and the truck had to be partly unloaded to free the dead man. Police said he apparently died instantly.

According to a tachometer used on the truck, Reed was driving 28 miles an hour at the time of the accident.

Keefe's death was the second in the city in a month's time. His death was recorded as the 255th in the state this year. Last year there were 270 at the same time

Deputy County Attorney Elmer M. Scheele said there will be no inquest into Keefe's death. Investigation of the accident was completed by city police.

Poultry Group To Study Egg Improvement

The Nebraska Poultry Association has voted to form a committee representing all segments of the industry to draft possible legislaaction to improve quality of eggs produced in the state.

Baumert

The action was taken as the 400 delegates wound up a three-day convention in Lincoln Thursday.

In talks and panel discussion delegates were told that egg prices are at their lowest level in several years, with Nebraska prices lowest of any; that Nebraska is producing too many low-quality eggs, and that producers are going to have to improve both production quality and handling practices.

Joe Baumert of Columbus was elected president of the association succeeding Henry Walz of Randolph.

Other officers are Alvin Riches, Auburn, first vice president; Don Williams, Fremont, second vice president; Allen Hudson, York, treasurer; and Doyle H. Free, Lincoln, executive secretary.

Bob Larson of Newman Grove was named director for the American Poultry Hatchery Federation, and Sam Schwerin of Norfolk was re-elected director at large for the state association for a three-year term.

Resolutions adopted included one urging establishment of a federal market news service for poultry in the Midwest. The convention voted to advise Agriculture Secretary Benson of the need.

Approved by delegates was a reorganization of the association so other segments of the industry, not only hatcherymen, can become working members.

Harvey Green of Spartansburg, S. C., first vice president of the national group, blamed over production for present troubles and called 1954 the "poultry industry's year of decision."

The annual convention closed Thursday night with a banquet calculated to satisfy every poultry enthusiast in attetndance. The menu featured fried chicken, roast turkey, roast goose, roast duck and a number of other poultry dishes. O. H. Green, first vice president of the American Poultry and Hatchery Federation, was toastmaster.

Elgin Net Earnings Total $269,000

ELGIN, Ill. — Elgin National Watch Co. reported consolidated net earnings of $269,648 on net sales of $30,724,417 for the first 28 weeks of fiscal 1954.

J. G. Shennan, president, said that although sales and earnings thus far in 1954 were substantially under the 1953 level, both immediate and long-range prospects are satisfactory because the largest part of Elgin's watch business normally comes during the September-December period.

He also cited the recently announced plans for stepping up Elgin's participation in the electronics and ordnance fields.

Earnings reported Thursday equal 30 cents per share. No comparative figures for 1953 are available, since the company recently adopted a new fiscal year running from March 1 through February 28.

A regular quarterly dividend of 15 cents per share was also announced, payable Dec. 9, to shareholders of record Nov. 18.

Brakhages Fill County School Board Offices

County School District 18 Board was back at normal strength Thursday with the appointment of two members to fill vacancies caused by two recent resignations.

The posts of president and secretary of the board were vacated with the unexplained resignations of Floyd B. and Floyd Junior Flader, both of Rt. 6.

New board members to replace them are Floyd Brakhage and Clarice Brakhage of Rt. 6 Floyd was named president of the board and Clarice was named secretary.

The appointments were made by Arthur T. Schnoor, board treasurer. The Brakhages will serve on the board until the second Monday of June when a regular election will be held to complete the unexpired terms of the Fladers.

Both Schnoor and Floyd B. Flader had protested a proposed trailer camp in the school district before the County Board of Commissioners. At the time they claimed the influx of children would impoverish the district, and that the people living in the trailers would not be obligated to pay supporting taxes for the school.

The commissioners, however, voted approval of the trailer camp by granting a license. District 18 is northwest of the Garfield District where residents have appealed for aid. They claim, too, that trailer camp populations have overloaded the school there.

Langer said Thursday night that he had "received a written complaint" about the same incident in 1951 when the Senate was about to vote on the nomination of Harriman to become mutual security director.

Langer said he asked for a delay in consideration of the nomination and got it.

"I looked into the matter," Langer said. "I found there was nothing to it as far as Harriman was concerned. I did find that such an incident had occurred."

"My inquuries completely satisfied me as to Harriman."

Harriman Drops Plans For Debate

NEW YORK (AP)—Averell Harriman—with an explanation by his campaign manager that he would have no part of "gutter-fighting"—Thursday cancelled his part in a planned debate with Sen. Irving M. Ives.

There was no immediate comment from Ives, the Republican candidate for governor.

An hour-long debate on general campaign issues had been scheduled for a statewide television hookup Oct. 27, under sponsorship of the Citizens Union. The Democrats said Ives tentatively had agreed to take part.

Harriman, the Democratic nominee, did not personally announce his action. But John P. McGrath, the Democratic state campaign manager, told newsmen he was representing Harriman's views when he declared.

"Such a debate could serve no constructive purpose because Ives' campaign has deteriorated into a gutter fight rather than a civilized exchange of views."

Peace Policy

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Vice President Nixon Thursday told University of Illinois students the Eisenhower administration established a foreign policy that brought peace and is designed to keep the United States out of war.

Addressing a crowd estimated by police at 8,000 to 10,000, Nixon also claimed these accomplishments for the Republican administration:

A security program that is fair, sane and effective and which is "ridding the government of disloyalty and corruption."

An economic policy that "has carried the nation safely through the transition of war to peace and is now going ahead toward the best peace time years and the best years, war or peace, in our history."

'Nation Of Haves'

NEW YORK (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey told investment bankers Thursday night that the Eisenhower administration is reshaping the nation's economic policies to fit the needs of "a nation of haves.' "

He said "a tremendous upheavel of this nation's whole economy" since the beginning of the century had "created a unique nation of 'haves' that needs an up-to-date way of thinking about itself . . ."

Truck-Auto Accident Kills Man

Coloradoan Killed When Pinned Under Big Truck

A Lakewood, Colo., man became Lincoln's fifth traffic fatality of the year early Thursday morning when his station wagon and a truck collided at 33rd and Holdrege.

The victim was identified as George C. Keefe, 28, who worked for a drapery and fabric company in New York City. Keefe's station wagon was headed north on 33rd when it collided with a Watson Bros. truck headed west.

Driver of the truck, Ansel J. Reed, 32, of 2825 Everett, said he swerved his truck in attempting to avoid the accident. The truck struck a fire hydrant and tipped over on its side and on top of Keefe who was thrown from his station wagon by the impact of the two vehicles.

The truck was carrying 30,000 pounds of general merchandise, including paint, wire, and other material, according to police investigating the accident. The collision occurred, according to police records, at 2:38 a.m.

Keefe's death followed by a little more than eight hours the death of Herman F. Bauman, 75, of College View, who apparently died instantly in a two-car collision on a gravel road two miles southeast of the city limits.

Keefe was pinned under the truck by the curb in front of the drugstore on the northwest corner of the intersection. House moving equipment was needed and the truck had to be partly unloaded to free the dead man. Police said he apparently died instatntly.

According to a tachometer used on the truck, Reed was driving 28 miles an hour at the time of the accident.

Keefe's death was the second in the city in a month's time. His death was recorded as the 255th in the state this year. Last year there were 270 at the same time

Deputy County Attorney Elmer M. Scheele said there will be no inquest into Keefe's death. Investigation of the accident was completed by city police.

Poultry Group To Study Egg Improvement

The Nebraska Poultry Association has voted to form a committee representing all segments of the industry to draft possible legislaaction to improve quality of eggs produced in the state.

Baumert

The action was taken as the 400 delegates wound up a three-day convention in Lincoln Thursday.

In talks and panel discussion delegates were told that egg prices are at their lowest level in several years, with Nebraska prices lowest of any; that Nebraska is producing too many low-quality eggs, and that producers are going to have to improve both production quality and handling practices.

Joe Baumert of Columbus was elected president of the association succeeding Henry Walz of Randolph.

Other officers are Alvin Riches, Auburn, first vice president; Don Williams, Fremont, second vice president; Allen Hudson, York, treasurer; and Doyle H. Free, Lincoln, executive secretary.

Bob Larson of Newman Grove was named director for the American Poultry Hatchery Federation, and Sam Schwerin of Norfolk was re-elected director at large for the state association for a three-year term.

Resolutions adopted included one urging establishment of a federal market news service for poultry in the Midwest. The convention voted to advise Agriculture Secretary Benson of the need.

Approved by delegates was a reorganization of the association so other segments of the industry, not only hatcherymen, can become working members.

Harvey Green of Spartansburg, S. C., first vice president of the national group, blamed over production for present troubles and called 1954 the "poultry industry's year of decision."

The annual convention closed Thursday night with a banquet calculated to satisfy every poultry enthusiast in attetndance. The menu featured fried chicken, roast turkey, roast goose, roast duck and a number of other poultry dishes. O. H. Green, first vice president of the American Poultry and Hatchery Federation, was toastmaster.

ELGIN, Ill. — Elgin National Watch Co. reported consolidated net earnings of $269,648 on net sales of $30,724,417 for the first 28 weeks of fiscal 1954.

J. G. Shennan, president, said that although sales and earnings thus far in 1954 were substantially under the 1953 level, both immediate and long-range prospects are satisfactory because the largest part of Elgin's watch business normally comes during the September-December period.

He also cited the recently announced plans for stepping up Elgin's participation in the electronics and ordnance fields.

Earnings reported Thursday equal 30 cents per share. No comparative figures for 1953 are available, since the company recently adopted a new fiscal year running from March 1 through February 28.

A regular quarterly dividend of 15 cents per share was also announced, payable Dec. 9, to shareholders of record Nov. 18.

Brakhages Fill County School Board Offices

County School District 18 Board was back at normal strength Thursday with the appointment of two members to fill vacancies caused by two recent resignations.

The posts of president and secretary of the board were vacated with the unexplained resignations of Floyd B. and Floyd Junior Flader, both of Rt. 6.

New board members to replace them are Floyd Brakhage and Clarice Brakhage of Rt. 6 Floyd was named president of the board and Clarice was named secretary.

The appointments were made by Arthur T. Schnoor, board treasurer. The Brakhages will serve on the board until the second Monday of June when a regular election will be held to complete the unexpired terms of the Fladers.

Both Schnoor and Floyd B. Flader had protested a proposed trailer camp in the school district before the County Board of Commissioners. At the time they claimed the influx of children would impoverish the district, and that the people living in the trailers would not be obligated to pay supporting taxes for the school.

The commissioners, however, voted approval of the trailer camp by granting a license. District 18 is northwest of the Garfield District where residents have appealed for aid. They claim, too, that trailer camp populations have overloaded the school there.

Researchers Link Cigarette Paper, Cancer

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (INS)—A team of Miami, Fla., and Cleveland researchers reported Thursday that a compound which causes cancer in mice has been found in smoke from cigarette paper.

The report, read at the American Chemical Society's southeastern regional meeting in Birmingham, stressed however that there is no establishing evidence that the compound also causes cancer in human beings.

The compound was identified as benzpyrene. Dr. D. V. Lefemine, a research chemist of the Cancer Institute of Miami who read the report, said benzpyrene "h a s proved to be one of the most powerful cancer-producing agents" in animal experiments.

No Comment

(A spokesman for the American Cancer Society in New York said the society was "aware" of the finding but had no comment to make on it.

(Timothy V. Hartnett, chairman of the Tobacco Industry Research Council, pointed out that similar researches are going on and at least one has been reported in the past. In the case of the last such report on cigarette paper as a factor under study, he noted, "the methods used (in the research) did not resemble conditions under which cigarettes are smoked.")

Collaborating with Lefemine in the research were Dr. J. E. Ayre and C. G. Grand of the Miami institute, and Dr. Sam Cardon and Thomas Alvord of H. J. Rand and Associates, Cleveland. Dr. Ayre is direction of the Miami institute. Grand is a biologist.

Metzger, Dooley Quizzed

The Lincoln Star today covers another Unicameral contest in its pre-election series.

Candidates for the Third Legislative District seat are William A. Metzger, 41, of Cedar Creek, and Tom Dooley, 74, of Papillion. The district consists of Cass and Sarpy Counties.

Metzger represented the District in the 1941, 1947, and 1949 sessions of the Legislature. He attended the University of Nebraska and is interested in livestock raising and farming.

Dooley, an abstractor, seeks his fourth term as representative of the district. He served in the 1943, 1945, and 1953 sessions. He ran for lieutenant governor in 1950 A native of Salem, N. Y, he attended the old Fremont college.

The questions and the answers:

1. Should the state tax structure be broadened? If so, what methods would you suggest?

Metzger: I would favor a sales tax if the base were to be broadened. A sales tax bill would have to be definitely worded so as to use all of its revenues to reduce present property taxes.

Dooley: I am not for any new form of taxation. I am in favor of improving the system we have by equalization of values.

2. In what areas, if any, would you favor a reduction or curtailment of state activities?

Metzger: I would favor taking the "frills" from state government wherever they might exist

Dooley: (No answer.)

3. Should the state encourage toll road construction or improve the present freeway system? Should the 6 cent gasoline tax be extended?

Metzger: The only function the state should have in the toll road question is one of determining the feasibility of the construction of such a road without state aid or underwriting. A freeway across the state is a nice dream but hardly feasible at this time.

I believe the need is clearly shown for an extension of the added gas tax.

Dooley: I was one of the ones that introduced the toll road bill last session. I think the state should pay the expense of the committee and be in a position to meet any Iowa and Illinois road if and when one comes.

I am in favor of extending the 6 cent gas tax.

4. Do you favor the truck weight tolerance law passed at the last session of the Legislature or should it be repealed?

Metzger: It should either be repealed or amended to a more realistic form. It is obviously being misused by many people at the present time and is not serving the purpose for which it was originally intended.

Dooley: I voted against the bill when it was passed and also voted against over-riding the governor's veto and would do the same again.

5. Do you favor a severance tax on oil and gas produced within the state?

Metzger: Not at the present time.

Dooley: (No answer.)

6. Are state conservation laws adequate? What changes would you suggest?

Metzger: Conservation laws are relativeiy new and must as a result go through constant change.

I am certain there are active organizations in the state which are working on constructive legislation and would be in a better position to suggest changes.

Dooley: (No answer.)

7. Should more funds be provided for the state mental health program?

Metzger: Certainly, if the need can be shown. I am only familiar with the subject in as much as I have read newpaper articles regarding the question, and do not feel that without further study, I would be able to state how great a need there is at the present time.

Dooley: Yes, if necessary to properly care for the people involved.

8. What is your philosophy regarding granting of federal funds for state assistance in times of emergency?

Metzger: I know that thousands of homes and farms are today owned by good citizens because of loans by federal agancies during times of emergency. I would hate to think that if disaster struck anyone or any group of states that the federal government or the states would turn their backs upon those struck by emergency, be it of any major proportion.

Dooley: I am for it in emergencies.

FARM SURPLUSES ARE BENEFICIAL, HART AND CHASE AGREE

By the Associated Press

Second District Congressional candidates James Hart, Democrat, and Jackson Chase, Republican, both of Omaha, met in a forum discussion at Omaha Wednesday and agreed farm surpluses are beneficial.

Chase said "we ought to thank God instead of singing hymns of hate about our surpluses."

Hart said he agreed. He added "Let's recognize that the Benson (Secretary of Agriculture) plan is based on reducing the surpluses and views them as something intrinsically bad."

Chase then said "it is about time the agricultural program is taken out of politics."

The GOP announced that Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill) will be the principal speaker at a dinner meeting next Tuesday at Terrytown near Scottsbluff.

Rep. Carl Curtis' Democratic opponent, Keith Neville, meanwhile said in Norfolk he has no objection to private industry participating in the development of atomic energy for industrial use.

"What I do object to," he said, "is the plan of the Republican administration to turn the entire project over to private industry. Their purpose was made perfectly clear by the favorable contract they are trying to give to Dixon and Yates."

Driving Classes Grow

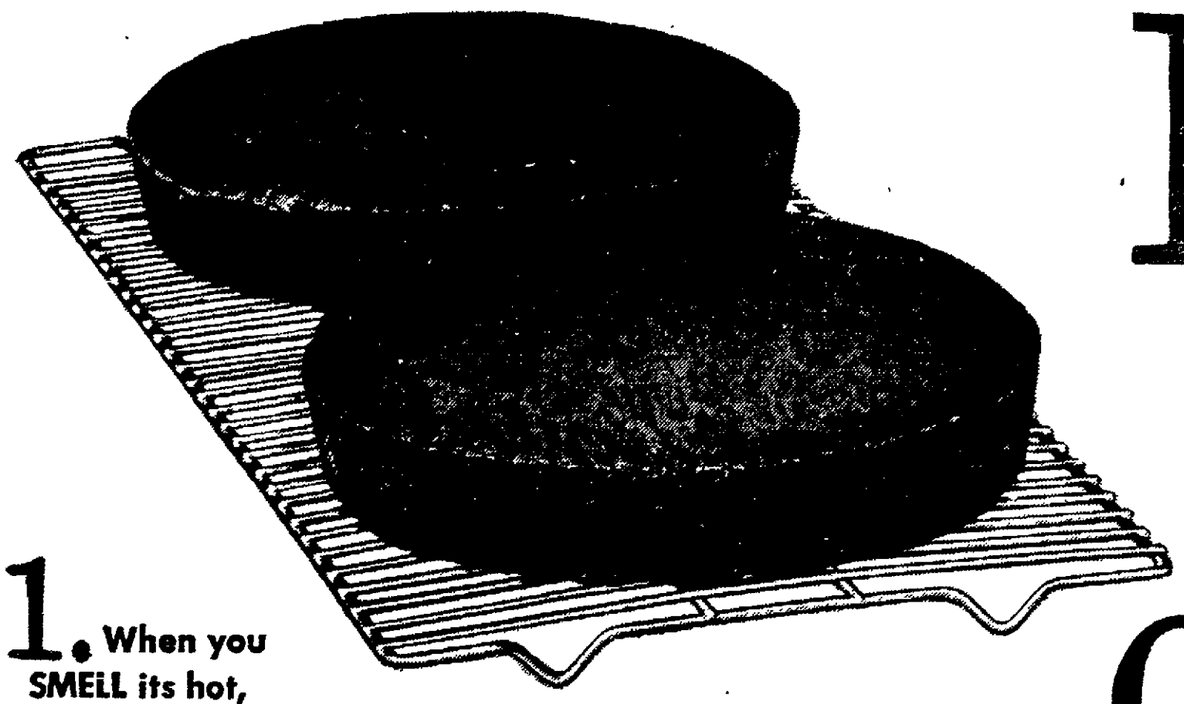

DETROIT (AP)—The nation's car dealers provided 7,300 new cars for driver education use in the high schools during the 1953-54 school term. This is 900 more than during the previous year. The Inter-Industry Highway Safety Committee reports accident records show driver education pays off in fewer accidents and traffic violations.

Home Again

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP) — Neal Denaway, 68, lost his wedding ring 28 years ago on a fishing trip at nearby Wilkinson Lake. On another trip at the same lake he spotted "a bit of yellow" in the mud where the water had receded. Reaching down, he picked up the long-lost ring.

Former Coed Is Bride

MRS. HERBERT H. COMBS

The marriage of Miss Joan Ellen Norsworthy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard A. Norsworthy of Gothenburg, to Herbert H. Combs of Kansas City, Mo., son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Combs, also of Kansas City, was solemnized by the Rev. Delbert Sampson at a 4 o'clock ceremony on Sunday afternoon, Oct. 17, at the First Methodist Church in Gothenburg. John Greene Jr., organist, played the wedding music, and also accompanied Mrs. Hans Thorne of Hastings, who sang preceding the service.

The attendants, Miss Jo Jen Loder of San Francisco, formerly of Lincoln, the maid of honor; and the bridesmaids, Mrs. Robert Kelly of Anchorage, Alaska, sister of the bridegroom; and Miss Virginia Norsworthy, sister of the bride, appeared in alike ballerina frocks of frost green crystalette, and carried bouquets of yellow fujii chrysanthemums.

Richard Combs of Kansas City served his brother as best man, and the ushers included Bernard Norsworthy, Wynne Norsworthy, Milton Norsworthy, brothers of the bride, and Robert Kelly of Anchorage, Alaska.

The bridal gown of lace and tulle over satin was designed in the Elizabethan mode. The portrait neckline of the long-sleeved lace bodice was contoured with natural scallops which were repeated to complete the brief lace over-lay on the waltz-length skirt of accordion pleated tulle. A bandeaux of lace, dotted with pearls, held to the head her double-tiered veil of English illusion, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white fujii chrysanthemums.

Following the reception in the church parlors Mr. Combs and his bride left for a honeymoon trip to Colorado Springs after which they will go to Kansas City to reside.

The bride is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Delta Gamma sorority. Mr. Combs was graduated from Kansas State College, Manhattan.

Club Program

Mrs. Henry Alt entertained the members of the Lookout Extension Club at her home on Wednesday. The lesson and demonstration on desserts were given by Mrs. Harley Flader and Mrs. Emma Burcham.

Guests of the club were Mrs. G. H. Reed, Mrs. A. E. Nicholls and Mrs. Valva Ludwig.

THIS AND THAT - -

THERE'S this, that and everything in the news this morning —news of guests, news of travelers, more news of the great trek to Boulder — there's a party or two to talk about, and some homecomers to mention —Think you might like to know there's something exciting on the books for a week from Monday—but we'll tell you about it then.

* * *

IN OUR guest book are the names of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Avery and their two sons, Douglas and Charles, who arrived from Chicago a few days ago to spend two weeks as the guests of Mrs. Avery's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. Parmele, and Mr. Avery's father, E. J. Avery.

Mrs. Avery, the former Polly Parmele—Pi Beta Phi at Nebraska—was a guest on Wednesday evening when Mrs. F. A. Pierson, Jr., entertained the members of her bridge club at her home — And on Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Avery will be guests at the Revelers Club party at Hotel Cornhusker.

* * *

AND RIGHT now we have news of a homecomer-guest combination—Miss Carolyn Schimmel, who attends the University of Missouri, was home briefly last week-end — and plans another homecoming the week-end of the Nebraska-Missouri game. Accompanying Miss Schimmel to Lincoln to be her house guest for the week-end will be Miss Carolyn Conway of Hastings.

* * *

UNDERSTAND that Mrs. Fenton B. Fleming will leave Saturday evening for Omaha where she will meet her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Keyes of Idaho Falls, Ida., and from where she will accompany them to Chicago where Mr. Keyes, Kiwanis Club district governor for Idaho and Utah, will attend a meeting of the organization.

Mrs. Fleming, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Keyes, will return to Lincoln in time for the Nebraska - Missouri game on Oct. 30—after which Mr. and Mrs. Keyes will return to Idaho Falls.

* * *

OFF TO Denver has gone Mrs. John Beachly whose very important mission there had to do with a very important person—This little VIP is the small Miss Michele Nan Beachly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ramey Beachly, who arrived on Thursday, Oct. 21, at Presbyterian Hospital, Denver.

As you know, the paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John Beachly of Lincoln—and the young lady's maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Walfred Lund of Minneapolis.

* * *

NOW—to Boulder and Nebraska's cheering section—Someone told us that Mr. and Mrs. Bennett S. Martin had gone to Colorado Springs where they are spending a few days at the Broadmoor before going to Boulder—

* * *

AND also cheering for Nebraska on Saturday will be Mr. and Mrs. Elsworth DuTeau and their daughters, Misses Mimi and Margot DuTeau.

* * *

THE Walter Blacks—Mr. and Mrs.—plan to be in Boulder on Saturday, too—Mr. and Mrs. Black, en route to Colorado, are stopping at Campbell for a brief visit with Mrs. Black's mother, and then on to Greeley, Colo., for a combined business and pleasure stay—After that—on to Boulder and the game.

* * *

THE party calendar this morning includes an informal coffee for which Mrs. Frank Boehmer will be hostess at her home, when she entertains a small group of guests in courtesy to Mrs. Willard Yates of Carmel, Calif.

Square Dance Club to Meet

The University of Nebraska Square Dance Club will meet at 8 o'clock, Saturday evening, at the Student Union on the College of Agriculture campus. Calling the dances will be Ray Russell.

Mr. Russell is offering a series of four square dance lessons for beginners, the first to be held at 8 o'clock, Monday evening, at the College of Agriculture Student Union. Anyone interested in attending is asked to contact Mrs. Ralph Read.

WRPC Club Has Program

The WRPC Club members and their guests were entertained at a program Friday evening following a dinner held in the parlors of the Bethany Christian Church. Mrs. F. R. Likes was in charge of the program which included songs by Mrs. W. E. Scott and a movie, "Building a Better Future."

In charge of dinner arrangements were Mrs. W. H. Ziegler and Mrs. F. L. Hyland.

We Hear That

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Snyder have had as their house guests for the past two weeks their daughter, Mrs. George Call, and her three children, Richard, William and Georgeanne. The visitors came from Salina, Kan., where Lt. Col. Call is stationed at the Smoky Hill Air Force Base.

★

Mrs. Edna Kelly of San Francisco, formerly of Lincoln, is a guest at the home of Miss Mayetta Marks.

Has Chapel Wedding

In the presence of members of the family and a small group of friends, the marriage of Miss Jean Daniel, daughter of Mrs. George W. Daniel of Plattsmouth, and the late Mr. Daniel, and Gene Jackson, son of Mrs. Don Elder of St. Joseph, Mo., and of Donald Jackson of Lincoln, was solemnized Saturday afternoon, Oct. 16. Pedestal arrangements of bronze and gold-toned chrysanthemums appointed the chapel of Westminster Presbyterian Church for the service, which was read by the Rev. Calvin Ukena.

A prelude of organ music was presented by Miss Josephine Waddell preceding the ceremony. Miss Waddell also played the wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Ronald D. Vosika as she sang, "Because", and "I Love You Truly."

The maid of honor and bride's only attendant was Miss Maxine McCubbin who wore a full-skirted frock of royal blue velvet. She completed her ensemble with velvet mitts and a small hat of velvet, and carried a nosegay of pale blue-tinted carnations.

Garland Fredrickson served Mr. Jackson as best man, and seating the guests was Raymond Matson of West Point.

The bride appeared in a gown of powder blue velvet designed in the after-five mode. Iridescent sequins dotted the small collar and sleeveless yoke of lace which was framed by the velvet of the bodice, and beneath the fitted waist, the skirt was shirred into fullness. The sequin trim was repeated on the matching velvet mitts and cap, which held her brief veil of blue illusion, and she carried a shower bouquet of pink carnations.

MRS. GENE JACKSON

Following the 4 o'clock ceremony, a small reception was held at the home of Mr. Jackson and his bride, who will reside in Lincoln.

Coffee Honors New Residents

One of the busiest hostesses in town at the moment is Mrs. David Gracey who planned two coffees this week to honor new Lincoln residents who are attached to the Lincoln Air Force Base and are attending the Church of the Holy Trinity, Episcopal.

The first of two coffees was held Thursday morning when Mrs. Gracey entertained 40 guests at her home—The second coffee is this morning, when another group of Lincoln Air Force Base wives will be complimented.

To See Films

A meeting of the Lincoln Weavers Guild has been scheduled for 2 o'clock, Saturday afternoon, and will be held in the Rogers room of the YWCA. The program will include films taken of the Wichita, Kan., Art Association exhibit on weaving.

Queen Of Nu Phi Mu

Miss Norma Jean Smith was revealed as the "Queen" of Nu Phi Mu business girls' sorority Wednesday evening when the members of the sorority's two Lincoln chapters held their annual banquet.

Miss Billie Loetterle gave a toast to the new queen who was presented with the four princesses (from left to right) Miss Joan Christiansen, Beta chapter; Miss Diana McKnight, Gamma chapter; Queen Norma Jean Smith, Gamma chapter; Miss Ina Miller, Beta chapter; and Mrs. Clinton Hoover, Gamma chapter.

Mrs. Charles Bukin was in charge of banquet arrangements, and a talk was given by Mrs. Herbert Casey, Nu Phi Mu advisor. The program was opened by Miss Mary Hock, and giving short talks were Miss Jean Donahue, Miss Viola Welsh, Mrs. LeRoy Krueger and Miss Norma Lewandowski.

AT THE CROSSROADS OF LINCOLN

Former Coed Is Bride

MRS. HERBERT H. COMBS

The marriage of Miss Joan Ellen Norsworthy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard A. Norsworthy of Gothenburg, to Herbert H. Combs of Kansas City, Mo., son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Combs, also of Kansas City, was solemnized by the Rev. Delbert Sampson at a 4 o'clock ceremony on Sunday afternoon, Oct. 17, at the First Methodist Church in Gothenburg. John Greene Jr., organist, played the wedding music, and also accompanied Mrs. Hans Thorne of Hastings, who sang preceding the service.

The attendants, Miss Jo Jen Loder of San Francisco, formerly of Lincoln, the maid of honor; and the bridesmaids, Mrs. Robert Kelly of Anchorage, Alaska, sister of the bridegroom; and Miss Virginia Norsworthy, sister of the bride, appeared in alike ballerina frocks of frost green crystalette, and carried bouquets of yellow fujii chrysanthemums.

Richard Combs of Kansas City served his brother as best man, and the ushers included Bernard Norsworthy, Wynne Norsworthy, Milton Norsworthy, brothers of the bride, and Robert Kelly of Anchorage, Alaska.

The bridal gown of lace and tulle over satin was designed in the Elizabethan mode. The portrait neckline of the long-sleeved lace bodice was contoured with natural scallops which were repeated to complete the brief lace over-lay on the waltz-length skirt of accordion pleated tulle. A bandeaux of lace, dotted with pearls, held to the head her double-tiered veil of English illusion, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white fujii chrysanthemums.

Following the reception in the church parlors Mr. Combs and his bride left for a honeymoon trip to Colorado Springs after which they will go to Kansas City to reside.

The bride is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Delta Gamma sorority. Mr. Combs was graduated from Kansas State College, Manhattan.

Club Program

Mrs. Henry Alt entertained the members of the Lookout Extension Club at her home on Wednesday. The lesson and demonstration on desserts were given by Mrs. Harley Flader and Mrs. Emma Burcham.

Guests of the club were Mrs. G. H. Reed, Mrs. A. E. Nicholls and Mrs. Valva Ludwig.

THIS AND THAT - -

THERE'S this, that and everything in the news this morning —news of guests, news of travelers, more news of the great trek to Boulder — there's a party or two to talk about, and some homecomers to mention —Think you might like to know there's something exciting on the books for a week from Monday—but we'll tell you about it then.

* * *

IN OUR guest book are the names of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Avery and their two sons, Douglas and Charles, who arrived from Chicago a few days ago to spend two weeks as the guests of Mrs. Avery's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. Parmele, and Mr. Avery's father, E. J. Avery.

Mrs. Avery, the former Polly Parmele—Pi Beta Phi at Nebraska—was a guest on Wednesday evening when Mrs. F. A. Pierson, Jr., entertained the members of her bridge club at her home — And on Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Avery will be guests at the Revelers Club party at Hotel Cornhusker.

* * *

AND RIGHT now we have news of a homecomer-guest combination—Miss Carolyn Schimmel, who attends the University of Missouri, was home briefly last week-end — and plans another homecoming the week-end of the Nebraska-Missouri game. Accompanying Miss Schimmel to Lincoln to be her house guest for the week-end will be Miss Carolyn Conway of Hastings.

* * *

UNDERSTAND that Mrs. Fenton B. Fleming will leave Saturday evening for Omaha where she will meet her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Keyes of Idaho Falls, Ida., and from where she will accompany them to Chicago where Mr. Keyes, Kiwanis Club district governor for Idaho and Utah, will attend a meeting of the organization.

Mrs. Fleming, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Keyes, will return to Lincoln in time for the Nebraska - Missouri game on Oct. 30—after which Mr. and Mrs. Keyes will return to Idaho Falls.

* * *

OFF TO Denver has gone Mrs. John Beachly whose very important mission there had to do with a very important person—This little VIP is the small Miss Michele Nan Beachly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ramey Beachly, who arrived on Thursday, Oct. 21, at Presbyterian Hospital, Denver.

As you know, the paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John Beachly of Lincoln—and the young lady's maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Walfred Lund of Minneapolis.

* * *

NOW—to Boulder and Nebraska's cheering section—Someone told us that Mr. and Mrs. Bennett S. Martin had gone to Colorado Springs where they are spending a few days at the Broadmoor before going to Boulder—

* * *

AND also cheering for Nebraska on Saturday will be Mr. and Mrs. Elsworth DuTeau and their daughters, Misses Mimi and Margot DuTeau.

* * *

THE Walter Blacks—Mr. and Mrs.—plan to be in Boulder on Saturday, too—Mr. and Mrs. Black, en route to Colorado, are stopping at Campbell for a brief visit with Mrs. Black's mother, and then on to Greeley, Colo., for a combined business and pleasure stay—After that—on to Boulder and the game.

* * *

THE party calendar this morning includes an informal coffee for which Mrs. Frank Boehmer will be hostess at her home, when she entertains a small group of guests in courtesy to Mrs. Willard Yates of Carmel, Calif.

We Hear That

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Snyder have had as their house guests for the past two weeks their daughter, Mrs. George Call, and her three children, Richard, William and Georgeanne. The visitors came from Salina, Kan., where Lt. Col. Call is stationed at the Smoky Hill Air Force Base.

★

Mrs. Edna Kelly of San Francisco, formerly of Lincoln, is a guest at the home of Miss Mayetta Marks.

Queen Of Nu Phi Mu

Miss Norma Jean Smith was revealed as the "Queen" of Nu Phi Mu business girls' sorority Wednesday evening when the members of the sorority's two Lincoln chapters held their annual banquet.

Miss Billie Loetterle gave a toast to the new queen who was presented with the four princesses (from left to right) Miss Joan Christiansen, Beta chapter; Miss Diana McKnight, Gamma chapter; Queen Norma Jean Smith, Gamma chapter; Miss Ina Miller, Beta chapter; and Mrs. Clinton Hoover, Gamma chapter.

Mrs. Charles Bukin was in charge of banquet arrangements, and a talk was given by Mrs. Herbert Casey, Nu Phi Mu advisor. The program was opened by Miss Mary Hock, and giving short talks were Miss Jean Donahue, Miss Viola Welsh, Mrs. LeRoy Krueger and Miss Norma Lewandowski.

Square Dance Club to Meet

The University of Nebraska Square Dance Club will meet at 8 o'clock, Saturday evening, at the Student Union on the College of Agriculture campus. Calling the dances will be Ray Russell.

Mr. Russell is offering a series of four square dance lessons for beginners, the first to be held at 8 o'clock, Monday evening, at the College of Agriculture Student Union. Anyone interested in attending is asked to contact Mrs. Ralph Read.

WRPC Club Has Program

The WRPC Club members and their guests were entertained at a program Friday evening following a dinner held in the parlors of the Bethany Christian Church. Mrs. F. R. Likes was in charge of the program which included songs by Mrs. W. E. Scott and a movie, "Building a Better Future."

In charge of dinner arrangements were Mrs. W. H. Ziegler and Mrs. F. L. Hyland.

Coffee Honors New Residents

One of the busiest hostesses in town at the moment is Mrs. David Gracey who planned two coffees this week to honor new Lincoln residents who are attached to the Lincoln Air Force Base and are attending the Church of the Holy Trinity, Episcopal.

The first of two coffees was held Thursday morning when Mrs. Gracey entertained 40 guests at her home—The second coffee is this morning, when another group of Lincoln Air Force Base wives will be complimented.

To See Films

A meeting of the Lincoln Weavers Guild has been scheduled for 2 o'clock, Saturday afternoon, and will be held in the Rogers room of the YWCA. The program will include films taken of the Wichita, Kan., Art Association exhibit on weaving.

Has Chapel Wedding

In the presence of members of the family and a small group of friends, the marriage of Miss Jean Daniel, daughter of Mrs. George W. Daniel of Plattsmouth, and the late Mr. Daniel, and Gene Jackson, son of Mrs. Don Elder of St. Joseph, Mo., and of Donald Jackson of Lincoln, was solemnized Saturday afternoon, Oct. 16. Pedestal arrangements of bronze and gold-toned chrysanthemums appointed the chapel of Westminster Presbyterian Church for the service, which was read by the Rev. Calvin Ukena.

A prelude of organ music was presented by Miss Josephine Waddell preceding the ceremony. Miss Waddell also played the wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Ronald D. Vosika as she sang, "Because", and "I Love You Truly."

The maid of honor and bride's only attendant was Miss Maxine McCubbin who wore a full-skirted frock of royal blue velvet. She completed her ensemble with velvet mitts and a small hat of velvet, and carried a nosegay of pale blue-tinted carnations.

Garland Fredrickson served Mr. Jackson as best man, and seating the guests was Raymond Matson of West Point.

The bride appeared in a gown of powder blue velvet designed in the after-five mode. Iridescent sequins dotted the small collar and sleeveless yoke of lace which was framed by the velvet of the bodice, and beneath the fitted waist, the skirt was shirred into fullness. The sequin trim was repeated on the matching velvet mitts and cap, which held her brief veil of blue illusion, and she carried a shower bouquet of pink carnations.

MRS. GENE JACKSON

Following the 4 o'clock ceremony, a small reception was held at the home of Mr. Jackson and his bride, who will reside in Lincoln.

Gore Signs Statement Admitting Robbery

Identified By Bank Employees

GERING, Neb. (AP)—Sheriff Steve Warrick said Thursday that 19-year-old Joe Derl Gore had signed a 19 page statement admitting the $58,142 Scottsbluff First State Bank robbery.

For the benefit of officers, Gore Thursday donned the complete outfit he said he wore during the holdup including a black "musical comedy" mustache.

He drew on the mustache with a charred match, though he said he used a burnt piece of paper the day of the robbery.

In the outfit, employees of the bank identified him as the man who held them prisoner Tuesday morning while he waited for a time-clock to open the vault.

Gore told officers he had been in Scottsbluff since Oct. 6 when he flew in from Cheyenne.

Though he had been casing the job for eight days, he said: "I'm just an amateur, not a professional."

Warrick said Gore would be held here until a U. S. marshal arrives Monday to take him to Lincoln pending grand jury action or a federal district court appearance.

Gore, who said his home is Jacksonville, Tex., but adds he has relatives in Tulsa, Okla., appeared before U. S. Commissioner Ted Feldler Wednesday. He was bound over to the grand jury on a federal bank robbery charge. He waived preliminary hearing and is held on $25,000 bond.

Processing Plant May Decide Upon Holdrege Location

HOLDREGE, Neb. (AP)— A group of irrigation farmers has been invited to meet here Nov. 8 to discuss the possibility of allocating acreages to crops for a new industrial food processing plant.

The industrial committee of the Chamber of Commerce said a processing firm, the name of which was not disclosed, is seeking a location for a new plant.

Crops processed by the firm would include tomatoes, beans, peas and corn, a Chamber spokesman said. It would take about 6,000 acres in the Holdrege area to grow the amount of produce necessary to keep the plant in operation.

C. M. Price of the Nebraska Resources Division, Lincoln, is expected to attend the meeting here.

Further Redistricting Possible

HOLDREGE, Neb. (AP)—The Phelps County school redistricting committee has agreed to recommend reorganization of seven rural districts to the state redistricting committee.

Richard E. Person, attorney for the committee, said the proposal asks that seven districts be served from a four-room elementary school which would be located four miles north of Holdrege.

Another merger, involving five districts, had a hearing here Thursday. A third hearing, scheduled for Oct. 27 at Bertrand, involves school districts in Phelps and Gosper Counties.

Mississippi Firm Offers Low Bid On Lovewell Dam

SUPERIOR, Neb. (AP) — The Cook Construction Co, Jackson, Miss., was apparent low bidder Thursday on construction work in connection with the building of the Lovewell Dam near here.

Robert L. Boyce, construction engineer for the Bureau of Reclamation, said the Cook bid of $2,324,849.50 was apparent low of 17 received on the project. The government estimate was $2,990,964.

The dam is a part of proposed work in the Bostwick division of the Missouri River basin.

Once completed, the dam will serve as a reservoir for storage of water for irrigation, be a flood control measure and allow for conservation and recreation benefits.

Boyce said it would be 8,200 feet in length and a maximum of 86 feet in height at completion. The contract calls for construction to be completed 27 months after the award is made.

CONSTIPATED?
Here's news for people who think they need a stronger laxative:
Many drug-type laxatives irritate the bowels into action. This harsh purging can't cure constipation due to lack of food bulk. All-Bran can. Good-tasting Kellogg's All-Bran, made from whole wheat bran, is scientifically milled to bring you nature's best bulk forming food in its most effective cereal form. All-Bran is not just another "bulk laxative." It is processed in a way that retains vital amounts of body building vitamins and minerals, such as: iron (29%), phosphorus (46%), vitamin D (100%), plus essential B vitamins. And, if All-Bran does not bring you comfortable regular relief within 10 days, you get double your money back. Remember, there is only one All-Bran—Kellogg's, the original. It works.

'Line Must Be Inspired'--Glassford

Buffalo Triple-Threater

Nebraska's Cornhuskers will probably see a lot of this fellow Saturday afternoon at Boulder. He's Homer Jenkins, a triple-threat tailback in the Buff backfield and he's sixth ranking ball carrier in the nation with 430 yards in 56 carries. In total offense Jenkins is 17th with 503 yards in 60 plays. (Photo Special to The Star.)

Cool Day May Help Huskers

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star

Bill Glassford would make no prediction Thursday on Nebraska's scoring against Colorado Saturday and he had a very good reason.

"We've been so busy trying to figure out how to stop Colorado we haven't had time to worry about how much we'd score."

But Glassford says that "our line will have to play inspired ball if we hope to be in the game."

The Huskers, a 14-point underdog, has been working extremely hard on its passing attack in an effort to throw over the heavy and fast Colorado line at Boulder instead of going through it.

Nebraska's passing was a big factor in beating Oregon State last week and Glassford is hoping it will help again.

What about the weather? There again Glassford had a quick answer Thursday.

"We're hoping for a cool day."

A 36-man squad—the conference limit—was named for the Boulder trip. It included three complete units, plus a quarterback, halfback and center. Included was Rex Fischer, who is returning to duty for the first time since preseason practice. He has been alternating with Don Erway as quarterback with the No. 2 unit and will see only spot action against the Buffs, if he plays.

"Rex is ready physically, but there are a lot of things he has to pick up because he's missed so much practice," Glassford said.

There were no injuries in Wednesday's scrimmage and no lineup changes are due this week. The third and fourth units scrimmaged again Thursday afternoon, but the first two units just tapered off.

Friday the squad will fly to Denver and hold a short workout on the South High field late in the afternoon. Saturday morning the team will be taken by bus to Boulder.

The traveling squad:

Ends—Jack Braley, LeRoy Butherus, Bill Giles, Dan Hewitt, Andy Loehr and Dean Lux.

Tackles—Pev Evans, Jack Flemming, Don Glantz, Bill Holloran, Dick Neal and Jerry Petersen.

Guards—Charles Bryant, Tom Kripal. Ken Kunes, Jim Murphy, Bob Wagner and Bill Taylor.

Centers—Bob Oberlin, Bob Berguin, LaVerne Torczon and Doran Post.

Quarterbacks—Dan Brown, Don Erway, Don Margheim, Rex Fischer.

Halfbacks—Don Comstock, Willie Greenlaw, Harry Johnson, Dennis Korinek, Jon McWilliams, Dirkes Rolston and Ron Clark.

Fullbacks—Bob Smith, John Edwards and Sylvester Harris.

Ron Galois

Lincoln High's speedy wingback, although he doesn't throw often, is a fine passer. He has flipped three touchdown passes in six games and has set up several scores by passing. He may be expected to throw tonight when the Links play Omaha South. (Star Photo.)

Lincoln, Cathedral Home . . . Foes Easy

By RON GIBSON
Star Sports Staff Member

If games go as they look on paper, Lincoln's prep football teams should be all-victorious tonight.

Cathedral, Lincoln High, College View and Northeast tonight face the easiest competition they have seen this season.

Lincoln, the leading Class A team in Nebraska, takes on Omaha South at the Oval. It will be homecoming night for the Links, who have won six straight.

South has a 2-4 record, including wins over Omaha Central and Omaha Tech. The Packers lost to Northeast. 27-19. last week and previously fell to North, Creighton Prep and Benson.

Two of South's stars, two-year veterans Ben Cacioppo and John DiBiase, were out with injuries last week when Northeast rallied in the last quarter to win. DiBiase and Cacioppo are expected to be ready to go tonight.

Northeast plays winless Fairbury in its final Mid-East Conference game. The Rockets seek win number five.

The Jeffs have lost to Hastings, York, Geneva, Nebraska City, Crete and Beatrice. Northeast is a heavy favorite to stop the young Fairbury team. Only three regulars, including top back Denny Huston. are back from the 1953 Fairbury eleven.

Cathedral is home to Omaha St. Joseph. This game could be closer than the other local games, but the Bluebirds should get their fifth victory without too much trouble. St. Joseph has a 33-13 victory over Fremont St. Patrick's to its credit and lost to Omaha Holy Name and Columbus St. Bonaventure — the two teams which have beaten Cathedral.

Wilber has a good record against weak teams but should provide College View with its first victory. The Wolverines have stopped Friend. Wymore and Waverly, and lost to tough Hebron, 32-6. The Viewmen have lost five straight.

Saxton Celebrates As 'Free Man'

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — Johnny Saxton celebrated his newly won welter championship outside the barred windows of a jail Thursday because his 15-day sentence as a traffic court "scofflaw" was suspended.

The suspended sentence was the result of an eloquent plea by Saxton's attorney, John J. Duff, who hinted his client's dull, though winning, performance Wednesday night at Philadelphia against Kid Gavilan was the result of worry about his pending jail term.

"Even the defendant's best friend could not say he fought his best fight," said the attorney. Brother, that was putting it mildly. The dull, 15-round clutching test was aptly described as a "stinker" by Frank Wiener, chairman of the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission.

Although most of the 7,909 fans who paid $57,121 to see the bout appeared to agree with the unanimous verdict for the 24-year-old New York Negro, boxing writers at ringside disagreed. According to comment by television viewers, most of them thought both the fight and decision were plain "lousy."

Fouled The (TV) Air

"It was a real stinker but Gavilan won," was the comment heard most often from the TV customers. Many observed "Nobody won it—they should have thrown both of them out of the ring." You couldn't argue too seriously with either viewpoint.

If worse title fights have been fought in recent years, they fortunately escape memory. The listless Gavilan showed no zip, no dash and little determination for a man who said in his dressing room, "I know from the first round I cannot win unless I knock him out." Only in a 15th round flurry did Gavilan make any all-out knockout bid.

For the most part it was a dreary waltz of countless clinches —one writer said he saw 105 clutches—with both fighters being guilty of wrestling and holding tactics. The rap on Gavila, from Commissioner Wiener was "He didn't fight enough either.

Gavilan's handlers who shouted "robber," "job" and "fix" last night had cooled off a bit on the morning after. Havana newspapers, however, splashed pictures and angry comments on the front pages. Comments ran from "The gangsters robbed The Kid" to "Swindle."

Ex-Champ Confused

In the hysterical hours after the fight, the 28-year-old ex-champ from Cuba was retiring and unreturning, completely disgusted by the decision of the three Philadelphia officials.

Mundito Medina, Gavilan's trainer, said in Philadelphia the Keed had cooled off and now expected to continue fighting because "We have an ironclad contract for a rematch in 90 days." Manager Angel Lopez said the same thing about a "private agreement" for a rematch.

Devil's Island, Southern Patagonia or the Siberian Steppes, might be a good site. Certainly, Philadelphia is out. Commissioner Wiener said, "They stunk out the house. Let Saxton take his title to Syracuse and fight (Carmen) Basilio, and let Gavilan fight anywhere but in Philadelphia."

Harry Markson, managing directors of the International Boxing Club which co-promoted the bout with Herman Taylor, said the IBC had no contracts for a return bout and no negotiations were under way. As for a proposed Bobo Olson-Gavilan middleweight championship match in Miami this winter, Markson said, "I wouldn't think that Gavilan would fit into that now."

There was talk of a hearing before the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission Wednesday night, probably confused with a meeting of some of the National Boxing Assn. officials.

In any event, there was no hearing and Wiener said "as far as I'm concerned, the fight is over. Saxton won and he deserved to win. Gavilan did not fight like a champion."

Saxton had been given a stay of execution of his jail term until after the fight after paying $600 in fines. He paid another $50 fine today on a speeding charge.

"Don't let it happen again," was the warning of Chief Magistrate John M. Murtagh who suspended the original sentence.

Grimsley Gives Another Try Despite Criticism

By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK (AP)—The customers always write—when we're wrong.

"Dear Sir," writes a Cincinnati reader. "I followed your selections last week and finished last in the office pool. The pool was won by the bartender around the corner who said he never reads your picks."

Oh, well, the bartender always wins. Last week we had a 32-16 mark for .667. Our season's total is 170 right, 61 wrong for .736.

A new week:

OHIO STATE OVER WISCONSIN: Coach Ivy Williamson hasn't beaten an Ohio State team in five tries. Hopalong Cassady and a stout line give the Buckeyes the edge.

MISS. OVER ARKANSAS: Here's a prime game between bowl-bound teams. Ole Miss gets the nodd on the theory the Razorbacks spent too much in the Texas game.

SOUTHERN CAL. OVER CAL.: With the Rose Bowl as incentive, the Trojans stop Paul Larson and win a close one behind young Jon Arnett.

ARMY OVER COLUMBIA: The Black Knights hit too hard and often for the Lions. Even Lou Little's wizardry can't stop that of Pete Vann.

MSC OVER PURDUE: The Spartans underwent a lot of place-kicking practice this week but shouldn't need it as they win by a touchdown.

UCLA OVER OREGON STATE: Another big score for the UCLANs who are headed for the Pacific Coast championship.

PITT OVER NORTHWESTERN: Admiral Tom Hamilton has put inspiration in the Panthers, who find out they're good.

RICE OVER TEXAS: Down in the Southwest the tip is never pick against a Jess Neely team after the middle of October.

NAVY OVER PENN: The Midshipmen bounce back from their loss to Pitt but run into an improved Penn team. Could be close.

MARYLAND OVER MIAMI (Fla.): The real Hurricane in this one is not named Hazel but Dick Bielski.

WEST VIRGINIA OVER VMI: The Mountaineers remain among the unbeaten-untied.

Sale Of A's Is Marred By Threats

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP) — The 11th hour move by home folk last weekend to buy the Philadelphia Athletics Thursday was mired in delay, threats and counter-threats.

Five days after a Philadelphia syndicate of nine businessmen announced the Mack family decided to sell to them, this was the picture:

1. Roy Mack, key figure in the sale, still had not provided American League president will Harridge with the signed bill of particulars. Harridge says this is necessary for league approval.

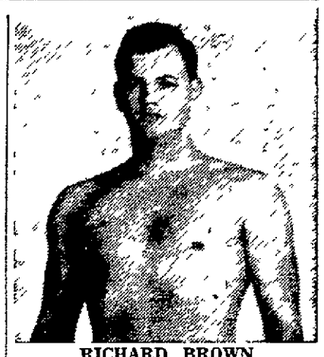

2. Arnold Johnson, Chicago financier, who Oct. 12 received league approval to purchase the A's and move them to Kansas City, has threatened a big damage suit against the Philadelphia syndicate And—

3. Members of the Philadelphia syndicate clamored for approving action by Harridge and warned Johnson they would meet him "at catchweights and let the sparks fly." (Johnson had offered $3,375,000 for the A's).

League Cannot Act Yet

RICHARD BROWN

Brown Slated To Try Simms

Out of Overland Park, Kan., comes Dick Brown for the semi-windup match on the Tuesday Fairgrounds wrestling card.

Brown, new to Lincoln mat shows, is the son of Orville Brown, the former world wrestling champion who retired from the game in 1940 following a serious auto accident.

Young Brown trained under his father and was about to enter the professional game when he was called into the Korean War as a naval reserve officer. He served with a naval task force nearly two years.

His opponent Tuesday will be Dave Simms of Minneapolis.

Howard Pierce of Lincoln and Frank Altman of Kansas City will open the show. Mainliners are Jack Pesek and Cowboy Carlson in an Australian tag match against the Dusek boys, Ernie and Emil.

Maryland-Miami Top Friday Tilt

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
The Associated Press

The Miami Hurricanes, for whom the football season has been just a breeze so far, tackle up-an-coming Maryland Friday night to open a weekend that could reduce the list of undefeated college teams to a mere footnote.

Three big games in as many sections Saturday pair up survivors of the tidal wave of upsets that has washed over the nation's gridirons during the past few weeks A few other teams which figure to keep their records clean could easily be engulfed by that same wave.

That probably would leave Oklahoma and UCLA to continue their scoring race for top national honors with the survivor of Saturday's Wisconsin-Ohio State struggle as their only competition.

Coach Andy Gustafson's early-maturing Miami sophomores are the only unbeaten major team slated for Friday night action. In Maryland they come up against a team that earned the No. 1 rating last season, started poorly this year and now seems to have found itself.

Scoring is Their Specialty

The high-scoring Floridians, who have made three or more touchdowns in each game against Furman, Baylor, Holy Cross and Mississippi State, probably lost their chance for a bowl bid when the University was placed on probation by the NCAA Wednesday.

Other Friday games include William & Mary-George Washington, Detroit-Tulsa and Houston-Villanova.

Saturday's big game, depending on your viewpoint, is either Wisconsin-Ohio State or Mississippi-Arkansas. They both carry championship and bowl implications and pair up four of the most exciting teams developed this season. Then there's Colgate vs. Yale, a pair of old-line Eastern institutions whose fast-moving teams have all-winning records.

No. 2 vs. No. 4

Wisconsin is the nation's No. 2 team in the current Associated Press ranking poll, and Ohio State is No. 4. Ohio's Buckeyes are the leading offensive team in the Big Ten and have the leading individual ground gainer in Bobby Watkins. Wisconsin is the conference's strongest defensive team, but in Alan (The Horse) Ameche, it has the second-best man at gaining yardage. The winner isn't sure to win the Big Ten title, but will take a long step in that direction.

The intersectional fued between Mississippi, co-leader of the Southeastern Conference, and surprising Arkansas, Southwest Conference pace-setter, brings together the No. 5 and No. 7 teams in the rankings. It looks like the toughest game on Mississippi's comparatively soft schedule.

The assignments for the other top-ten teams are:

Oklahoma (No. 1) against so-so Kansas State; UCLA (3) against three-time loser Oregon State; unbeaten Minnesota (8) against Michigan, an in-and-out team that could be troublesome in this traditional encounter; Army (9) against pass-minded Columbia and West Virginia (10) against weak Virginia Military. Notre Dame (6) is idle.

Still on the downgrade with 91-38 for a .705 average. there's another Saturday of football and it looks like this:

Big Seven

Oklahoma 40, Kansas State 6—Only good thing about playing the Sooners is getting an opportunity to give the subs a lot of experience.

Missouri 20, Iowa State 7—Cyclones are improving, but so are the Tigers—and quicker.

Southern Methodist 32, Kansas 6—Jayhawks have had it. Julie Sikes is getting to look better every week as Chuck (TV) Mather leads on.

Other Games

Ohio State over Wisconsin . . . Minnesota over Michigan (Gophers make Nebraska look better each week) . . . Purdue over Michigan State . . . Illinois over Syracuse . . . Iowa over Indiana (Rose Bowl dreams crushed, but Hawks battle on) . . . Baylor over Texas A&M . . . TCU over Penn State . . . Mississippi over Arkansas . . . Miami over Maryland (Terps turn turtle) . . . Georgia Tech over Kentucky . . . Alabama over Mississippi State . . . Wake Forest over North Carolina . . . Duke over North Carolina State . . . Florida over LSU . . . Clemson over South Carolina . . . UCLA over Oregon State (Beavers don't have a prayer: only hope is for clemency on score) . . . Southern California over California . . . Washington over Stanford . . . Oregon over San Jose State . . . Washington State over Idaho . . . Montana over Brigham Young . . . Denver over Wichita . . . Wyoming over Utah . . . VPI over Virginia.

Post Script

Colorado is looking forward to beating Oklahoma a week from tomorrow, since it is convinced that Nebraska is in the bag.

That's fine with the Huskers. They know that they've got a game this week—at Colorado—and they want to win. A real effort will be needed to win, but stranger things have happened.

A gang of 36 boiling mad Cornhuskers might turn the trick.

The chips will be down at Boulder, Colo., Saturday afternoon. There will be no holds barred when the Huskers and the Buffaloes tangle at Folsom Field.

By all the books Colorado is favored—and should be—and that may help Nebraska. It's Homecoming at Boulder this weekend and the Buffs have backs to burn and a line that looks big and fast.

The Huskers can win if they get some breaks and capitalize on them. Spirit and desire by the bushel will be needed too.

With fingers crossed in hopes that we will be wrong. the final score should be about: Colorado 25, Nebraska 20.

'Line Must Be Inspired'--Glassford

Buffalo Triple-Threater

Nebraska's Cornhuskers will probably see a lot of this fellow Saturday afternoon at Boulder. He's Homer Jenkins, a triple-threat tailback in the Buff backfield and he's sixth ranking ball carrier in the nation with 430 yards in 56 carries. In total offense Jenkins is 17th with 503 yards in 60 plays. (Photo Special to The Star.)

Cool Day May Help Huskers

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star

Bill Glassford would make no prediction Thursday on Nebraska's scoring against Colorado Saturday and he had a very good reason.

"We've been so busy trying to figure out how to stop Colorado we haven't had time to worry about how much we'd score."

But Glassford says that "our line will have to play inspired ball if we hope to be in the game."

The Huskers, a 14-point underdog, has been working extremely hard on its passing attack in an effort to throw over the heavy and fast Colorado line at Boulder instead of going through it.

Nebraska's passing was a big factor in beating Oregon State last week and Glassford is hoping it will help again.

What about the weather? There again Glassford had a quick answer Thursday.

"We're hoping for a cool day."

A 36-man squad—the conference limit—was named for the Boulder trip. It included three complete units, plus a quarterback, halfback and center. Included was Rex Fischer, who is returning to duty for the first time since preseason practice. He has been alternating with Don Erway as quarterback with the No. 2 unit and will see only spot action against the Buffs, if he plays.

"Rex is ready physically, but there are a lot of things he has to pick up because he's missed so much practice," Glassford said.

There were no injuries in Wednesday's scrimmage and no lineup changes are due this week. The third and fourth units scrimmaged again Thursday afternoon, but the first two units just tapered off.

Friday the squad will fly to Denver and hold a short workout on the South High field late in the afternoon. Saturday morning the team will be taken by bus to Boulder.

The traveling squad:

Ends—Jack Braley, LeRoy Butherus, Bill Giles, Dan Hewitt, Andy Loehr and Dean Lux.

Tackles—Pev Evans, Jack Flemming, Don Glantz, Bill Holloran, Dick Neal and Jerry Petersen.

Guards—Charles Bryant, Tom Kripal, Ken Kunes, Jim Murphy, Bob Wagner and Bill Taylor.

Centers—Bob Oberlin, Bob Berguin, LaVerne Torczon and Doran Post.

Quarterbacks—Dan Brown, Don Erway, Don Margheim, Rex Fischer.

Halfbacks—Don Comstock, Willie Greenlaw, Harry Johnson, Dennis Korinek, Jon McWilliams, Dirkes Rolston and Ron Clark.

Fullbacks—Bob Smith, John Edwards and Sylvester Harris.

Ron Galois

Lincoln High's speedy wingback, although he doesn't throw often, is a fine passer. He has flipped three touchdown passes in six games and has set up several scores by passing. He may be expected to throw tonight when the Links play Omaha South. (Star Photo.)

Lincoln, Cathedral Home . . . Foes Easy

By RON GIBSON
Star Sports Staff Member

If games go as they look on paper, Lincoln's prep football teams should be all-victorious tonight.

Cathedral, Lincoln High, College View and Northeast tonight face the easiest competition they have seen this season.

Lincoln, the leading Class A team in Nebraska, takes on Omaha South at the Oval. It will be homecoming night for the Links, who have won six straight.

South has a 2-4 record, including wins over Omaha Central and Omaha Tech. The Packers lost to Northeast, 27-19, last week and previously fell to North, Creighton Prep and Benson.

Two of South's stars, two-year veterans Ben Cacioppo and John DiBiase, were out with injuries last week when Northeast rallied in the last quarter to win. DiBiase and Cacioppo are expected to be ready to go tonight.

Northeast plays winless Fairbury in its final Mid-East Conference game. The Rockets seek win number five.

The Jeffs have lost to Hastings, York, Geneva, Nebraska City, Crete and Beatrice. Northeast is a heavy favorite to stop the young Fairbury team. Only three regulars, including top back Denny Huston, are back from the 1953 Fairbury eleven.

Cathedral is home to Omaha St. Joseph. This game could be closer than the other local games, but the Bluebirds should get their fifth victory without too much trouble. St. Joseph has a 33-13 victory over Fremont St. Patrick's to its credit and lost to Omaha Holy Name and Columbus St. Bonaventure — the two teams which have beaten Cathedral.

Wilber has a good record against weak teams but should provide College View with its first victory. The Wolverines have stopped Friend, Wymore and Waverly, and lost to tough Hebron, 32-6. The Viewmen have lost five straight.

Saxton Celebrates As 'Free Man'

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — Johnny Saxton celebrated his newly won welter championship outside the barred windows of a jail Thursday because his 15-day sentence as a traffic court "scofflaw" was suspended.

The suspended sentence was the result of an eloquent plea by Saxton's attorney, John J. Duff, who hinted his client's dull, though winning, performance Wednesday night at Philadelphia against Kid Gavilan was the result of worry about his pending jail term.

"Even the defendant's best friend could not say he fought his best fight," said the attorney. Brother, that was putting it mildly. The dull, 15-round clutching test was aptly described as a "stinker" by Frank Wiener, chairman of the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission.

Although most of the 7,909 fans who paid $57,121 to see the bout appeared to agree with the unanimous verdict for the 24-year-old New York Negro, boxing writers at ringside disagreed. According to comment by television viewers, most of them thought both the fight and decision were plain "lousy."

Fouled The (TV) Air

"It was a real stinker but Gavilan won," was the comment heard most often from the TV customers. Many observed "Nobody won it—they should have thrown both of them out of the ring." You couldn't argue too seriously with either viewpoint.

If worse title fights have been fought in recent years, they fortunately escape memory. The listless Gavilan showed no zip, no dash and little determination for a man who said in his dressing room, "I know from the first round I cannot win unless I knock him out." Only in a 15th round flurry did Gavilan make any all-out knockout bid.

For the most part it was a dreary waltz of countless clinches—one writer said he saw 105 clutches—with both fighters being guilty of wrestling and holding tactics. The rap on Gavila, from Commissioner Wiener was "He didn't fight enough either.

Gavilan's handlers who shouted "robber," "job" and "fix" last night had cooled off a bit on the morning after. Havana newspapers, however, splashed pictures and angry comments on the front pages. Comments ran from "The gangsters robbed The Kid" to "Swindle."

Ex-Champ Confused

In the hysterical hours after the fight, the 28-year-old ex-champ from Cuba was retiring and unretiring, completely disgusted by the decision of the three Philadelphia officials.

Mundito Medina, Gavilan's trainer, said in Philadelphia the Keed had cooled off and now expected to continue fighting because "We have an ironclad contract for a rematch in 90 days." Manager Angel Lopez said the same thing about a "private agreement" for a rematch.

Devil's Island, Southern Patagonia or the Siberian Steppes, might be a good site. Certainly, Philadelphia is out. Commissioner Wiener said, "They stunk out the house. Let Saxton take his title to Syracuse and fight (Carmen) Basilio, and let Gavilan fight anywhere but in Philadelphia."

Harry Markson, managing directors of the International Boxing Club which co-promoted the bout with Herman Taylor, said the IBC had no contracts for a return bout and no negotiations were under way. As for a proposed Bobo Olson-Gavilan middleweight championship match in Miami this winter, Markson said, "I wouldn't think that Gavilan would fit into that now."

There was talk of a hearing before the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission Wednesday night, probably confused with a meeting of some of the National Boxing Assn. officials.

In any event, there was no hearing and Wiener said "as far as I'm concerned, the fight is over. Saxton won and he deserved to win. Gavilan did not fight like a champion."

Saxton had been given a stay of execution of his jail term until after the fight after paying $600 in fines. He paid another $50 fine today on a speeding charge.

"Don't let it happen again," was the warning of Chief Magistrate John M. Murtagh who suspended the original sentence.

A new week:

OHIO STATE OVER WISCONSIN: Coach Ivy Williamson hasn't beaten an Ohio State team in five tries. Hopalong Cassady and a stout line give the Buckeyes the edge.

MISS. OVER ARKANSAS: Here's a prime game between bowl-bound teams. Ole Miss gets the nodd on the theory the Razorbacks spent too much in the Texas game.

SOUTHERN CAL. OVER CAL.: With the Rose Bowl as incentive, the Trojans stop Paul Larson and win a close one behind young Jon Arnett.

ARMY OVER COLUMBIA: The Black Knights hit too hard and often for the Lions. Even Lou Little's wizardry can't stop that of Pete Vann.

UCLA OVER OREGON STATE: Another big score for the UCLANs who are headed for the Pacific Coast championship.

PITT OVER NORTHWESTERN: Admiral Tom Hamilton has put inspiration in the Panthers, who find out they're good.

RICE OVER TEXAS: Down in the Southwest the tip is never pick against a Jess Neely team after the middle of October.

Sale Of A's Is Marred By Threats

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP) — The 11th hour move by home folk last weekend to buy the Philadelphia Athletics Thursday was mired in delay, threats and counter-threats.

Five days after a Philadelphia syndicate of nine businessmen announced the Mack family decided to sell to them, this was the picture:

1. Roy Mack, key figure in the sale, still had not provided American League president will Harridge with the signed bill of particulars. Harridge says this is necessary for league approval.

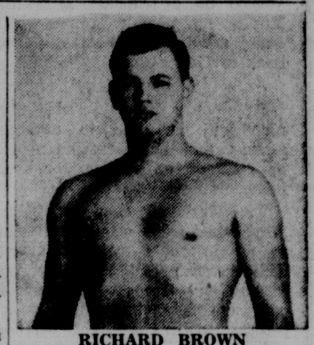

2. Arnold Johnson, Chicago financier, who Oct. 12 received league approval to purchase the A's and move them to Kansas City, has threatened a big damage suit against the Philadelphia syndicate. And—

3. Members of the Philadelphia syndicate clamored for approving action by Harridge and warned Johnson they would meet him "at catchweights and let the sparks fly." (Johnson had offered $3,375,000 for the A's).

League Cannot Act Yet

Taking cognizance that lawyers still probably were wrestling with details of the announced $4,000,000 sale, Harridge said Thursday his office could not act in the matter until it is 'signed, sealed and delivered."

The next step, Harridge said, "undoubtedly" would be to call a meeting of league club owners to vote on the new ownership. Approval requires seven votes.

Plainsmen SeekSecond NCC Win

A Nebraska Wesleyan University football team which has played its best ball against its toughest opponents and fallen flat on its 11 collective faces against teams it should have easily handled, will seek its second Nebraska College Conference gridiron victory at the expense of Midland College at Fremont Saturday.

The Plainsmen—rated even with the Warriors of Coach Woody Greeno this season—will be seeking revenege for a 13-19 loss suffered at Fremont last fall which ended a nine-game Wesleyan winning streak in the series which dates back to 1919.

Keith Skogman's Plainsmen, weakened at the middle of the line by injuries to guards Pete Nelson and Bill Minchow and hurt by the loss of end Ronnie Bachman, rose up to slap back the Wayne State Wildcats 14-12 last Friday night in a game which ended a Wayne State streak dating back to 1948.

Homecoming

None of the three injured Plainsmen will be able to compete against the Warriors who should be completely fired up for their homecoming tussle.

The Wesleyan success against Wayne last week was due in part to an improved passing attack with veteran Bill Buck on the hurling end of most flips. Previously opponents had found it expedient to use a tight defense which halted many Wesleyan scoring drives just short of pay dirt.

Coach Skogman intimated that a 30-man squad will make the jaunt to Fremont for the Saturday afternoon tussle. He also intimated that no changes will be made in his starting lineup which would mean a first string combination of Paul Fredstorm and Harold Gustafson, ends; Durward VanCleave and Douglas Johnson, tackles; Jack Wiltfang and Gordon Metzger, guards; Boyd Thompson, center; and Charles Ege, Cliff Kahl, Bill Buck and Sanford Nelson, backs.

Skogman said his defensive backs will have to be "mighty alert" to halt the Midland passing game. Quarterback Ronnie Donahue was tossing perfect strikes against Hastings but his receivers were having trouble holding onto the ball.

Omaha's Mayor Rosenblatt Blasts AA Failure To Draft Omaha, Denver

OMAHA (AP)—Mayor John Rosenblatt said Thursday, "Officials of the American Association are making a serious financial mistake in not immediately drafting both Omaha and Denver of the Western League."

The mayor's comment came as he expressed disappointment that Kansas City's failure to land the Philadelphia Athletics' baseball franchise apparently has stalled Omaha's bid for an Association berth.

Rosenblatt has been vacationing in California and Thursday was his first opportunity to comment on the decision to keep the A's in Philadelphia.

"They scream about the minor leagues having trouble, and they are actually suppressing baseball in two outstanding communities," the mayor said.

New FORD THUNDERBIRD

A personal car of distinction ...with Trigger-Torque performance

No matter what you have come to expect in a car, you'll be delighted at the wealth of conveniences the Thunderbird offers. Two tops are available: a disappearing fabric top . . . and an easy-to-lift-on hard top. The extra-wide vinyl upholstered seat is foam-rubber-cushioned . . . power-operated 4 ways. Windows roll up . . . by power, if you like. There is a tachometer . . . and a clock with a sweep second hand. There is a telescoping steering wheel. The baggage compartment is ample. And you can have power steering and power brakes.

Something totally fresh is here – a bewitching new all-steel beauty that sets the styling keynote for other Ford cars to come.

But, styling gives the merest hint of what the Thunderbird has to offer. For here is a car you can drive with assurance and pleasure . . . for business or for recreation.

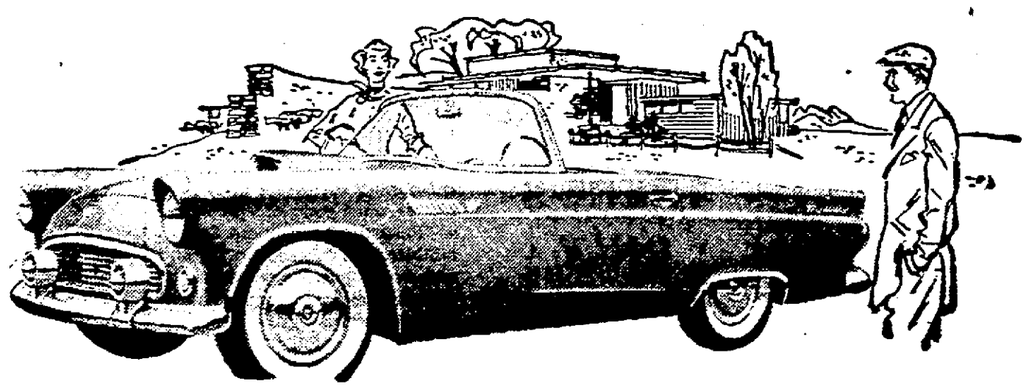

In traffic and on the open road the Thunderbird's Trigger-Torque performance is literally a revelation. Here is hair-trigger response . . . fleet, liquid agility . . . backed by a reserve of swift, sure power to meet safety's every demand.

Trigger-Torque performance stems from Ford's new Thunderbird Special V-8 – a high-torque engine with 4-barrel carburetor, dual exhausts, wide-opening valves and Ford's famous low-friction design. And to enhance the performance characteristics of this brilliant V-8 engine, the Thunderbird provides special rear axle ratios to match the transmission of your choice – Conventional, Overdrive, or new Speed-Trigger Fordomatic.

Then, in the ride department, Ford's Ball-Joint Front Suspension really works wonders. It not only velvet-cushions your ride, it also allows the Thunderbird to handle with utmost ease – to corner with greatest stability. And when it comes to stopping, brakes are big and powerful.

But, more important is the way the Thunderbird is engineered, designed . . . and built! For it is the product of the same advanced engineering . . . the same manufacturing skills that have made Ford products so dependable, so value-full and so desirable to so many.

Plainsmen SeekSecond NCC Win

A Nebraska Wesleyan University football team which has played its best ball against its toughest opponents and fallen flat on its 11 collective faces against teams it should have easily handled, will seek its second Nebraska College Conference gridiron victory at the expense of Midland College at Fremont Saturday.

The Plainsmen—rated even with the Warriors of Coach Woody Greeno this season—will be seeking revenege for a 13-19 loss suffered at Fremont last fall which ended a nine-game Wesleyan winning streak in the series which dates back to 1919.

Keith Skogman's Plainsmen, weakened at the middle of the line by injuries to guards Pete Nelson and Bill Minchow and hurt by the loss of end Ronnie Bachman, rose up to slap back the Wayne State Wildcats 14-12 last Friday night in a game which ended a Wayne State streak dating back to 1948.

Homecoming

None of the three injured Plainsmen will be able to compete against the Warriors who should be completely fired up for their homecoming tussle.

The Wesleyan success against Wayne last week was due in part to an improved passing attack with veteran Bill Buck on the hurling end of most flips. Previously opponents had found it expedient to use a tight defense which halted many Wesleyan scoring drives just short of pay dirt.

Coach Skogman intimated that a 30-man squad will make the jaunt to Fremont for the Saturday afternoon tussle. He also intimated that no changes will be made in his starting lineup which would mean a first string combination of Paul Fredstorm and Harold Gustafson, ends; Durward VanCleave and Douglas Johnson, tackles; Jack Wiltfang and Gordon Metzger, guards; Boyd Thompson, center; and Charles Ege, Cliff Kahl, Bill Buck and Sanford Nelson, backs.

Skogman said his defensive backs will have to be "mighty alert" to halt the Midland passing game. Quarterback Ronnie Donahue was tossing perfect strikes against Hastings but his receivers were having trouble holding onto the ball.

High School Football Leaders Look Safe; Geneva In Comeback Bid

By BILL FITZGERALD
Star Sports Staff Member

Nebraska's prep football leaders look safe this Friday when the state turns to the gridron for its weekly show.

Lincoln High is a strong favorite to gallop over Omaha South in the Capital City and Seward, the Class B leader, is a big pick over Aurora at Seward.

Geneva can't be overlooked in a comback game at Sutton. The Wildcats no longer carry the load of 15 straight victories and are expected to pound the Mustangs.

Creighton Prep meets the Maroons of Omaha Tech and it is said the gang in bright uniforms may upset the Junior Jays, but the Class A team with the longest win string in the state is favored to make it 16 in a row.

Benson Challenged

Omaha Benson and its undefeated record will be challenged by Omaha North. The Bunnies are looking toward that Prep game next week but should get past the battle-weary Vikings.

In a small-school special Waverly will attempt to knock over Weeping Water, undefeated and a strong contender for the Class C title. The game is at Waverly with W. W. favored.

Strong Tecumseh is picked over a slipping Syracuse team on the Rocket field, and unbeaten Clarks is favored to stay that way at home against Osceola.

Trophy To Be Given At Midland

Lincoln Star Special

FREMONT— Awarding of the Petrow Memorial Trophy will be one of the sports highlights of the 31st homecoming at Midland College this Saturday.

Candidates are 1954 graduates Jerry McCracken, Lincoln, now in service at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., Martin Dumler, Davenport, a student at the University of Nebraska Medical School, Omaha; and Dan Moore, Omaha, now in service at Ft. Bliss, Tex.

The trophy will be awarded at the homecoming dance program at 8:15 p.m. Saturday. Miriam Calhoun and Janet Niebaum, co-editors of the 1955 Warrior, college yearbook, will make the presentation. The award is made each year by the yearbook.

The winner will receive a personal trophy with his name engraved on it, and his name will be engraved on the permanent trophy which remains at the college.

Robinson Included

Duane Robinson, Oshkosh, 1953 graduate of Midland and winner of the trophy last year, will also take part in the presentation program. He is now in service and stationed at Hutchinson, Kan.

The Petrow Trophy is awarded annually at Midland's Homecoming, in memory of "Babe" Petrow, Fremont athlete who starred in all sports at Midland before World War II.

Moore captained the Midland football team last year and was named on the second team of the Nebraska College Conference as a tackle.

McCracken captained the Midland track team and set a new Midland record in the half-mile this season. He was also a member of the mile relay team that set a new Midland record and was a letterman in football.

Dumler returned from service last fall to take over regular spot at fullback on the Midland football team.

High School Football Leaders Look Safe; Geneva In Comeback Bid

By BILL FITZGERALD
Star Sports Staff Member

Nebraska's prep football leaders look safe this Friday when the state turns to the gridron for its weekly show.

Lincoln High is a strong favorite to gallop over Omaha South in the Capital City and Seward, the Class B leader, is a big pick over Aurora at Seward.

Geneva can't be overlooked in a comback game at Sutton. The Wildcats no longer carry the load of 15 straight victories and are expected to pound the Mustangs.

Creighton Prep meets the Maroons of Omaha Tech and it is said the gang in bright uniforms may upset the Junior Jays, but the Class A team with the longest win string in the state is favored to make it 16 in a row.

Benson Challenged

Omaha Benson and its undefeated record will be challenged by Omaha North. The Bunnies are looking toward that Prep game next week but should get past the battle-weary Vikings.

In a small-school special Waverly will attempt to knock over Weeping Water, undefeated and a strong contender for the Class C title. The game is at Waverly with W. W. favored.

Strong Tecumseh is picked over a slipping Syracuse team on the Rocket field, and unbeaten Clarks is favored to stay that way at home against Osceola.

Wilson Trading U.S. Contracts For Political Money — Mitchell

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (INS) — National Democratic chairman Stephen A. Mitchell charged Thursday night that Defense Secretary Charles A. Wilson is touring defense areas to obtain political money from manufacturers who want government contracts.

Mitchell, in a speech prepared for delivery before an Alabama Democrat rally in Birmingham, said Republicans have sent Wilson to four of the principal defense contract centers—Detroit, Cleveland, Chicago and Dayton.

Mitchell added:

"You can imagine the alacrity with which manufacturers who want defense contracts will snap up tickets at $100 each, when the secretary of defense is the speaker?"

Mitchell also brought into his speech the issue of unemployment. He said:

"The basic trouble today is that this Republican administration has refused for over a year to even admit the plain fact that we are in a recession.

"The Labor Department tells us nine out of every ten cities in the country have unemployment problems ranging from minor to severe, and the other one-tenth have an even balance between men and jobs. Payrolls are down six million dollars.

'Scare Campaign'

Mitchell said the Republicans have launched a "scare campaign" intended to "frighten the people into an Old Guard Republican Congress whether they want that kind of Congress or not." He added:

"This scare campaign was launched by the President in his Denver speech. He went so far as to cast up the bogey of a 'cold war' between the executive and legislative branches if the people don't vote for Republican congressmen they don't want."

"For the President to threaten the American people in this fashion," Mitchell said, "is most extraordinary—and really quite unworthy. It is unworthy because it is untrue."

Mitchell predicted confidently that the North and South "will find a way for all of us to go into the next convention with harmony and come out as a United Party that will go on to elect a Democratic President in 1956."

Earlier, in an interview, the party chief declared that the Democrats "will make the greatest sweep of Congress this year since 1936."

Ike Needs GOP Solons—Weaver

TECUMSEH, Neb. (AP)—In the interest of "fair play," President Eisenhower is entitled to a Republican congress in 1955 "which will work closely with his administration to carry through his legislative program for the benefit of all Americans," Republican congressional candidate Phil Weaver told the Tecumseh Kiwanis Club Wednesday.

"The crusade begun in 1952 for decency and honesty in government was won with the help of all Americans, men and women, young and old," he said.

A continuation of this crusade at the forthcoming general election is called for, he added.

Schoolhouse To Be Sold At Public Auction

A 45-year-old one-room schoolhouse, located south and west of Kramer, will be sold at public auction Thursday. The sale will mark the first use in Lancaster County of an act passed by the last Legislature.

The act provides that a school district shall be dissolved by the county superintendent of schools if no students attended the school during the previous year.

School District No. 141 has been dissolved by action of Superintendent Glenn Turner. The school land will be returned to the original owners, School District Nos. 72 and 74 and the buildings sold at auction.

Turner added that although this is the first use of the act in the county, the county has dissolved some 35 districts within the last seven years under different provisions.

President's Photo Sent To Government Offices

NEW YORK (AP) — A White House offical said Thursday that pictures of President Eisenhower are being sent to many federal government offices all over the country.

Murray Snyder, assistant press secretary to the President, said the shipments result from "thousands of requests" from federal agencies.

He added that the bill for the 15x20 inch photographs in black and white is being paid by "a high administration official out of his own pocket as a public service."

In response to newsmen's questions, Snyder said distribution of the photographs was "in no way" related to the congressional election campaign.

He said the project was first discussed in Washington "about a year and a half ago" and that plans to go ahead with it were formulated last January.

Snyder said the Republican National Committee usually fills such requests, but that it was unable to meet the demand from federal agencies.

Asked about a published report that the photographs are being distributed in the midst of the campaign with instructions that they be hung promptly, Snyder said he assumed that the heads of the various federal agencies sending out the pictures have been telling their offices around the country to display them.

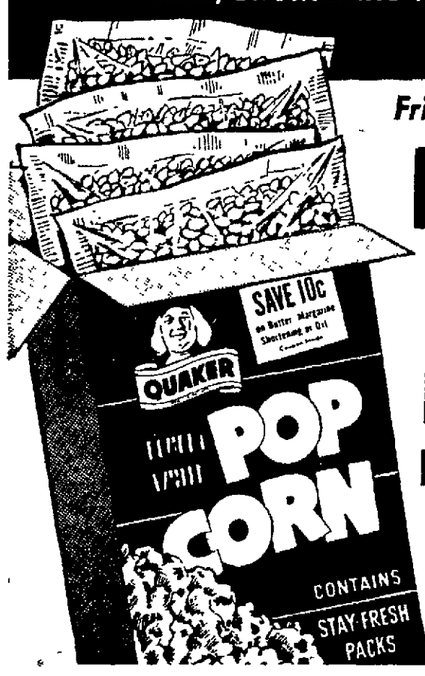

Snyder said distribution is being made only to agencies which have requested pictures.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

BAERING DOWN ON THE NEWS By Arthur 'Bugs' Baer

(Distributed by International News Service)

The tomato primaries are over in upstate New York.

☆ ☆ ☆

Sen. Ives was the guest of honor on the vegetable parabola. While extolling the virtues of the Republican Party the senator was smacked in the puss with de ketchup.

Bugs Baer

☆ ☆ ☆

It was a tomato suprise. And so was the senator.

☆ ☆ ☆

The senator said between spatters, "Curb service is a little high tonight."

☆ ☆ ☆

"Heaving the old tomato," he continued, "is a typical caper of Tammany Hall. It is indicative of the level of Democratic opposition. Where I come from a tomato is a vegetable and not an argument."

☆ ☆ ☆

Sen. Ives hadn't expected to make an after-tomato speech.

☆ ☆ ☆

Stopping a tomato with your puss is always a surprise. We happen to know the difference between a soft-boiled semi-colon and a fresh country exclamation mark. The same thing happened to us in Albany during Fresh Vegetable Week. We made the dedication speech on Tomato Tuesday.

☆ ☆ ☆

From somewhere far back we seem to remember that Rudy Vallee stopped a grapefruit at Yale. And that Iturbe also received a bouquet of testimonial garbage from an admirer in the audience.

☆ ☆ ☆

We didn't mind the one we stopped at Albany. We could have told Sen. Ives the upstaters throw nothing but strikes. They allow for windage, drift, angle of incidence and curvature of the earth. And waste no time bracketing the target.

☆ ☆ ☆

But it turns out that Tammany wasn't pitching that night at all. The senator got his base-on-tomatoes from four Watertown schoolboys who didn't know the concert season hadn't officially opened yet.

Profit Taking Hits Stock Mart Gains

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market ran into a wave of profit taking toward the close Thursday which wiped out many earlier gains and gave the list an irregular appearance.

By the final bell, some shares were up better than a point and others were down as much.

Steels and motors did better than the rest of the list, holding to gains that ranged to around a point. The railroads and aircrafts, market leaders in recent sessions, were especially hit by profit taking.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks closed off 10 cents at $136.60. The industrials gained 10 cents, the rails lost 60 cents and the utilities advanced 10 cents.

Despite the slight dip in the averages, there were more advances than declines. A total of 502 stocks went up and 429 declined. Isues traded came to 1,221 against 1,213 Wednesday. There were 90 new highs and seven new lows.

Volume almost matched Wednesday's. It totaled 2,320,000 shares compared with 2,380,000.

Thoroughly mixed prices also prevailed on the American Stock Exchange. Marion Power Shovel, American Republics, Imperial Oil, Mead Johnson and New Jersey Zinc posted gains while Cesna, Colonial Airlines, International Petroleum and Pittsburgh Metallurgical closed lower.

Volume on the American Exchange was 60,000 shares—40,000 less than Wednesday.

Railroad obligations led the bond market higher, but U.S. government issues declined a trifle.

BOND MARKET

NEW YORK (AP)—Railroads tilted the the corporate bond market forward Thursday but U. S. government obligations declined.

Strong demands for bonds of the Missouri Pacific Railroad boosted "Big Board" volume to $5,050,000 par value from $3,245,000 Wednesday. Trustees of the "bankrupt" road petitioned a federal court to allow payment of $66,014,788 in back interest on MOPAC bonds.

The court action touched off a wave of buying and selling at improved prices in MOPAC issues accounting for $1,401,000 par value volume. MOPAC 5s of 1981 rose two points at 118. Up 1¾ were the 5s of 1980 at 119 and the general 4s at 112¾.

Strength in Missouri Pacific spread to other carriers. Lehigh Valley, Baltimore & Ohio, Chicago Great Western, Big Four, Pere Marquette, Wabash and New York Central gained ground. Utilities and industrials were fairly steady.

Profit Taking Hits Stock Mart Gains

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market ran into a wave of profit taking toward the close Thursday which wiped out many earlier gains and gave the list an irregular appearance.

By the final bell, some shares were up better than a point and others were down as much.

Steels and motors did better than the rest of the list, holding to gains that ranged to around a point. The railroads and aircrafts, market leaders in recent sessions, were especially hit by profit taking.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks closed off 10 cents at $136.60. The industrials gained 10 cents, the rails lost 60 cents and the utilities advanced 10 cents.

Despite the slight dip in the averages, there were more advances than declines. A total of 502 stocks went up and 429 declined. Isues traded came to 1,221 against 1,213 Wednesday. There were 90 new highs and seven new lows.

Volume almost matched Wednesday's. It totaled 2,320,000 shares compared with 2,380,000.

Thoroughly mixed prices also prevailed on the American Stock Exchange. Marion Power Shovel, American Republics, Imperial Oil, Mead Johnson and New Jersey Zinc posted gains while Cesna, Colonial Airlines, International Petroleum and Pittsburgh Metallurgical closed lower.

Volume on the American Exchange was 60,000 shares—40,000 less than Wednesday.

Railroad obligations led the bond market higher, but U.S. government isues declined a trifle.

BOND MARKET

NEW YORK (AP)—Railroads tilted the the corporate bond market forward Thursday but U. S. government obligations declined.

Strong demands for bonds of the Missouri Pacific Railroad boosted "Big Board" volume to $5,050,000 par value from $3,245,000 Wednesday. Trustees of the "bankrupt" road petitioned a federal court to allow payment of $66,017,788 in back interest on MOPAC bonds.

The court action touched off a wave of buying and selling at improved prices in MOPAC issues, accounting for $1,401,000 par value volume. MOPAC 5s of 1981 rose two points at 118. Up 1¾ were the 5s of 1980 at 119 and the general 4s at 112¾.

Strength in Missouri Pacific spread to other carriers. Lehigh Valley, Baltimore & Ohio, Chicago Great Western, Big Four, Pere Marquette, Wabash and New York Central gained ground. Utilities and industrials were fairly steady.

Ten Jurors Seated In Dr. Sheppard Murder Trial

Full Panel Seen Friday

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ten jurors were tentatively seated Thursday in the first degree murder trial of Dr. Samuel Sheppard. A full and final panel was conceivable by nightfall Friday.

Three more housewives were added — including a lady who finds it hard to change her mind. There now are six women and four men, with two vacancies to fill. Then a weeding out process occurs and a final panel is sworn in.

The last woman seated was Mrs. Grace L. Prinz, mother of four and wife of a meat packing foreman. She declared during questioning that once her mind is made up it isn't easily changed.

She finally conceded she could discuss the case with her fellow-jurors and conceivably change her mind to agree with them. Then she added firmly:

"But there would have to be an awful lot of discussion about it."

The defense in its fourth day of examining prospective jurors began picking away at bulwarks in the state's case—the demand for the death penalty and the circumstantial evidence against the 30-year-old osteopath.

Sheppard is accused of beating his pregnant wife, Marilyn, 31, to death July 4 in the bedroom of their lakefront home. In pleading innocent, he claimed a bushy-haired man invaded the house, killed his wife and knocked him unconscious.

The state has no known witnesses to the slaying. But it has built up a circumstantial case It has placed Sheppard on the scene. And it has offered as a possible motive his purported love affair with 24-year-old Susan Hayes, a pretty technician who once worked in the same hospital with him.

Asst. prosecutor John J. Mahon bore down at one point during the day to stress that Ohio law allows a conviction and a death sentence "on circumstantial evidence alone."

At the time, Mahon was examining the ninth juror, Mrs. Margaret E. Adams, a slender, talkative brunette with bangs. She is the childless wife of an executive of a small manufacturing firm.

Later, Fred W. Garmone, of the defense staff, took his turn at examining Mrs. Adams. He, too, touched on circumstantial evidence, pointing out that it forms links in the state's case. Then he asked Mrs. Adams:

"If sometime during the molding of that link of circumstantial evidence that link is broken off, would you hesitate to bring in a verdict of not guilty in favor of Dr. Sam Sheppard?"

"I wouldn't hesitate to bring in a verdict of not guilty," replied Mrs. Adams quickly.

Ag Enumerators Are Appointed

Eleven persons have been appointed enumerators of the 1954 farm census in Lancaster County, according to Herman Staley of the Department of Commerce bureau of the census.

The enumerators, selected to date, are as follows:

George S. Austin, Emil Samuelson, Marcus W. Dittman, Herman D. Vedder, Bertram W. Greve, Henry Boevink, Mrs. Sarah L. Martin, Robert C. Rocke, Dorothy Scott, Edmund F. Frank, Lunia M. Ober

Duties of enumerators include locating every farm within the area assigned to them, interviewing each farm operator and obtaining an accurate record of all farming operations as well as information covering farm facilities and equipment and related items.

The enumerators will report Tuesday to 411 Veterans Building to begin a four-day training session. They begin the census work on Nov. 1 and it is expected the enumeration will take from three to four weeks to complete.
